OUR CHARLESTON DISPATCHES.

CHARLESTON, Friday, April 12.

The ball has opened. War is inaugurated.

The batteries of Sullivan's Island, Morris Island, and other points, were opened on Fort Sumpter at 4 o'clock this morning.

Fort Sumpter has returned the fire, and a brisk cannonading has been kept up. No information has been received from the seaboard yet.

The military are under arms, and the whole of our population are on the streets. Every available space facing the harbor is filled with anxious spectators.

CHARLESTON, Friday, April 12.

The firing has continued all day without intermission.

Two of Fort Sumpter's guns have been silenced, and it is reported that a breach has been made in the southeast wall.

The answer to Gen. BEAUREGARD's demand by Major ANDERSON was that he would surrender when his supplies were exhausted, that is, if he was not reinforced.

Not a casualty has yet happened to any of the forces.

Of the nineteen batteries in position only seven have opened fire on Fort Sumpter, the remainder are held in reserve for the expected fleet.

Two thousand men reached this city this morning and embarked for Morris Island and the neighborhood.

CHARLESTON, Friday, April 12.

The bombardment of Fort Sumpter continues.

The Floating Battery and Stephens Battery are operating freely, and Fort Sumpter is returning the fire.

It is reported that three war vessels are outside the bar.

CHARLESTON, Friday, April 12.

The firing has ceased for the night, but will be renewed at daylight in the morning, unless an attempt is made to reinforce, which ample arrangements have been made to repel.

The Pawnee, Harriet Lane, and a third steamer are reported off the bar.

Troops are arriving by every train.

LATER DISPATCHES—HOSTILITIES STILL PRODEEDING.

CHARLESTON, Friday, April 12.

The bombardment is still going on every twenty minutes from our morters. It is supposed that Major ANDERSON is resting his ment for the night.

Three vessels-of-war are reported outside. They cannot get in. The sea is rough.

Nobody is hurt. The floating battery works well. Troops arrive hourly. Every inlet is guarded. There are lively times here.

CHARLESTON, Friday, April 12.

The firing on Fort Sumpter continues.

There are reviving times on the "Palmetto coast."

CHARLESTON, Friday, April 12—3 A. M.

It is utterly impossible to reinfofce Fort Shmpter, to-night, as a storm is now raging.

The morter batteries will be playing on Fort Sumpter all night.

FROM ANOTHER CORRESPONDENT.

CHARLESTON, Friday, April 12.

Civil war has at last begun. A terrible fight is at this moment going on between Fort Sumpter and the fortifications by which it is surrounded.

The issue was submitted to Major ANDERSON of surrendering as soon as his supplies were exhausted, or of having a fire opened on him within a certain time.

This he refused to do, and accordingly, at twenty-seven minutes past four o'clock this morning Fort Moultrie began the bombardment by firing two guns. To these Major ANDERSON replied with three of his barbette guns, after which the batteries on Mount Pleasant, Cummings' Point, and the Floating Battery opened a brisk fire of shot and shell.

Major ANDERSON did not reply except at long intervals, until between 7 and 8 o'clock, when he brought into action the two tier of guns looking towards Fort Moultrie and Stevens iron battery.

Up to this hour—3 o'clock—they have failed to produce any serious effect.

Major ANDERSON has the greater part of the day been directing his fire principally against Fort Moultrie, the Stevens and Floating Battery, these and Fort Johnson being the only five operating against him. The remainder of the batteries are held in reserve.

Major ANDERSON is at present using his lower tier of casemate ordnance.

The fight is going on with intense earnestness, and will continue all night.

The excitement in the community is indescribable. With the very first boom of the guns thousands rushed from their beds to the harbor front, and all day every available place has been thronged by ladies and gentlemen, viewing the spectacle through their glasses.

The brilliant and patriotic conduct of Major ANDERSON speaks for itself.

Business is entirely suspended. Only those stores open necessary to supply articles required by the Army.

Gov. PICKENS has all day been in the residence of a gentleman which commands a view of the whole scene—a most interested observer. Gen. BEAUREGARD commands in person the entire operations.

It is reported that the Harriet Lane has received a shot through her wheelhouse. She is in the offing. No other Government ships in sight up to the present moment, but should they appear the entire range of batteries will open upon them.

Troops are pouring into the town by hundreds, but are held in reserve for the present, the force already on the island being ample. People are also arriving every moment on horseback, and by every other conveyance.

CHARLESTON, Friday, April 12—6 P. M.

Capt. R. S. PARKER brings dispatches from the floating battery, stating that up to this time only two have been wounded on Sullivan's Island. He had to row through Major ANDERSON's warmest fire in a small boat.

Senator WIGFALL in same manner bore dispatches to Morris Island, through the fire from Fort Sumpter.

Senator CHESNUT, another member of the staff of Gen. BEAUREGARD, fired a gun, by way of amusement, from Mount Pleasant, which made a large hole in the parapet.

Quite a number have been struck by spent pieces of shell and knocked down, but none hurt seriously. Many fragments of these missiles are already circulating in the city.

The range is more perfect than in the morning and every shot from the land tells.

Three ships are visible in the offing, and it is believed an attempt will be made to-night, to throw reinforcements into Fort Sumpter in small boats.

It is also thought, from the regular and frequent firing of Major ANDERSON, that he has a much larger force of men than was supposed. At any rate, he is fighting bravely.

There have been two rain storms during the day, but without effect upon the battle.

Everybody is in a ferment. Some of those fighting are stripped to the waist.

To L. P. WALKER, Secretary of War:

Maj. ANDERSON replies:

"I HAVE THE HONOR TO ACKNOWLEDGE THE RECEIPT OF YOUR COMMUNICATION DEMANDING THE EVACUATION OF THIS FORT, AND TO SAY IN REPLY THERETO, THAT IT IS A DEMAND WITH WHICH I REGRET THAT MY SENSE OF HONOR AND MY OBLIGATIONS TO MY GOVERNMENT WILL PREVENT MY COMPLIANCE." He adds: "Probably I will await the first shot, and if you do not batter us to pieces, we will be starved out in a few days."

Answer. G. F. BEAUREGARD.

[No. 9.]

MONTGOMERY, April 11.

Gen. BEAUREGARD—Charleston:

We do not desire needlessly to bombard Fort Sumpter, if Major ANDERSON will state the time at which, as indicated by him, he will evacuate, and agree that, in the meantime, he will not use his guns against us unless ours should be employed against Fort Sumpter. You are thus to avoid the effusion of blood. If this or its equivalent be refused, reduce the fort as your judgment decides to be the most practicable.

THE NEWS IN WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Friday, April 12.

The town was thrown into intense excitement to-night by the report of the commencement of hostilities at Charleston this morning at 4 o'clock. The more so because of the previous news of peace and landing of provisions at Fort Sumpter. The news came to-night from the Associated Press agent at Charleston, giving all the particulars of the correspondence between BEAUREGARD and Major ANDERSON, the commencement of the attack by the Secessionists, and ANDERSON's response from his batteries.

The news was posted at once in all the hotels, and the wildest scene of excitement ensued. Among the Union men here there was general rejoicing that an issue was made at last, while no advocates of Southern rights were to be found.

Major ANDERSON's fame is on every one's tongue about the hotels and streets. The news was at once taken to the White House. All visitors will be excluded, and the Cabinet summoned to await further information and act upon it. One thing I am certain of, from positive knowledge—that if this last information proves true, the Administration will support ANDERSON and his course with the whole power and means of the Government, at all hazards.

A crowd assembled at the telegraph office to await further news.

Everyone had been waiting anxiously all day for the report of an attack upon the Government supply vessels, which it was ascertained last evening would probably approach Charleston harbor some time during the night or this morning. The surprise occasioned by the report from repeated dispatches that they had entered the harbor without molestation, and were landing the supplies without any difficulty, present or apprehensive, created nearly as great an excitement as the later reports of battle. The President was informed by dispatches to three different parties, announcing the safe landing, until he finally concluded that they must be correct, and that better counsels were prevailing among the Southern men.

CABINET COUNCILS.

Mr. LINCOLN summoned the Cabinet together the second time to consult. They had met once at 10 A. M., and now convened again at 1 o'clock P. M. There was general rejoicing at the prospects of peace and final adjustment of our national difficulties, dampened somewhat, however, by fear that it would prove false. LINCOLN said to a friend that if these advices were correct, the crisis had been passed, and the whole question settled without firing a gun. He added that he did not consider the Government at war with the South, and did not intend it should by his act. It was in this view that the provisioning of the fort was ordered to be attempted, unaccompanied by armed demonstration. The President further said, while assuming that the supplies had been landed, that he did not consider maintaining supremacy of the Federal Government any victory over the South, but simply a vindication of the faith he had always reposed in the ultimate good sense, and sense of justice among the American people. The War Department did not place any reliance to-day on the peace dispatches. Secretary CAMERON declared that he saw no escape from conflict at both Forts Sumpter and Pickens.

LATER.—Notwithstanding a violent rain-storm, people are still thronging the streets, anxious to get the details of the fight at Charleston, but very little has leaked out except the leading statement that the fighthas begun. The last rumor on the streets is that a breach has been effected in the walls of Fort Sumpter. Military men here say if this statement is part of the Associated Press news, it throws discredit on the whole story, as Fort Sumpter is too strong to be thus speedily reduced by any battery in the possession of the enemy. The motive of the statement that a breach has been effected, is supposed to be to discourage the President from sending additional forces there on the idea that the whole affair would be ended before reinforcements could arrive. This surmise is strengthened by the failure to get news of the arrival of the transports at Charleston, as there can be no doubt that some of them reached there before this. The President is anxious but calm at this trying hour of responsibility, confident in the rectitude of his course, and its approval by the people.

FOREIGN ASPECT OF SECESSION.

Mr. SEWARD and the President have consulted frequently with the foreign diplomats here concerning the present condition of our national affairs and the course of their respective Governments. On the part of the representatives of England and France, it is well understood that there is no sympathy whatever for the South. Lord LYONS says that he sees no benefit to be derived by the English Government, or any foreign Power, from the subremacy of its people; that there is, of course no prospect of foreign supremacy on this continent in any event; while England and the United States have become so strongly united in mutual interests, that misfortune to one is disaster to the other in all points of material interests. The Southern Commissioners had reason to discover these facts while in Washington, and have probably given DAVIS and his compatriots some new ideas not at all flattering to their vanity and visions of ultimate success.

VIRGINIA TRAITORS.

The report that R. A. PRYOR, of Virginia, has joined the staff of BEAUREGARD, gives color to the rumor that several companies had left Richmond for Charleston, to join the rebel forces. Under the circumstances, the Virginia Committee who arrived to day, will get only cold comfort from Mr. LINCOLN, although they will be treated courteously, as the Administration cannot disclose its purposes while a rebellioue army is opposing its power.

THE TRAITORS' MAILS TO BE STOPPED.

Should the news of to-night be confirmed, the Postmaster-General will suspend at once all mail communications with the rebel States.

THE DEFENCE OF WASHINGTON.

Two companies of the Second Cavalry are ordered to this city, to be selected by the officer in charge of the corps. Although Washington is not under martial law, all possible precautions are taken to guard against surprise. Mounted videttes are stationed at all the approaches to the city, at a distance of several miles, to give notice of any coming hostile force.

FROM ANOTHER CORRESPONDENT.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT OF THE NEWS AT WASHINGTON.

The first dispatches from the seat of war were received in this city about 7 o'clock this evening. The excitement caused by the meagre intelligence was most intense. Bulletins were posted at the principal hotels, where immense crowds gathered to discuss the probable results. It is almost needless to say that while there was but one opinion as to the end, there was an infinite variety of conjectures as to the modus operandi. The public sentiment is very decided that in the war inaugurated to-day the Government will prove to be the victor.

NEVER THOUGHT OF EVACUATION.

There is no foundation for the long stories told of the original purpose of the Government to evacuate Fort Sumpter. Mr. LINCOLN has not entertained any such purpose. He has entertained no purpose but to maintain possession of the Government property and enforce the laws. All statements that negotiations were entered upon for the departure of Major ANDERSON's command were mere canards got up for the purpose of covering political defeats. The policy of the Administration never depended upon the contingency of evacuation. It was fixed within ten days after Mr. LINCOLN's inauguration. If evidence were wanting of this, it would be found in the fact that the Government was prepared to dispatch such quantities of men and material as left the port of New-York within four days.

FORETHOUGHT OF THE ADMINISTRATION—ITS EFFECT.

The rapid shipment of supplies, men and munitions was the result of forethought and previous preparation—the end of means long before matured. The Government continues to receive assurances of the popularity of the measures it has inaugurated. These come from all quarters, and from men of all parties. I was talking with a gentleman from Maryland this evening, who assured me that the steps taken to maintain the upremacy of the General Government had done more to stifle secession in his State than all the compromise propositions. He was at home yesterday when a dispatch was received that a conflict had taken place in the harbor of Charleston. About forty persons were present, including Republicans and "very few" Douglas Democrats and Bell-Everett men. There was a universal expression of hope that the Government would succeed. This feeling pervades the Border States to an extent that surprises all. The stern realities of an actual conflict appear to have sobered the people and brought them to realize the duties of the Government and their own responsibility as citizens.

DEMOCRATIC INDORSEMENT OF MR. LINCOLN'S POLICY.

I met a Democrat to-day, whom I have known all through the excitement of the last election as an out-and-out friend of the Southern Secessionists. He is a New-Yorker, and widely connected with its business, he himself being one of the heaviest dealers in sugars in your City. I was astonished to hear him proclaim unguardedly his approval of the policy of the Administration, his hope that the vigor displayed in the beginning would continue to the end, and his willingness to make all the sacrifices which war imposes upon commercial enterprise. He says that the prominent Democrat of the State of New-York who shall venture to give his aid and comfort to the Southern Confederacy is doomed to political oblivion. I could multiply a dozen such instances in my experience of to-day.

NO EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS.

There is little probability of an extra session of Congress. As was telegraphed you yesterday, there is no necessity for such a session. The Government has all the power which Congress could confer, except the money.

MONEY PLENTY.

Until the limit of Treasury Notes is reached, the Government has as much means at its disposal as its wants are likely to exhaust before the regular period for the assembling of the National Legislature. Were it to be called together now, it could do nothing more to maintain the national honor than Mr. LINCOLN is now doing, while it might seriously jeopardize the early success of the Government forces by needless but exciting debates. In the hands of a prudent, just and decided President, and an intelligent and harmonious Cabinet, the national honor and the national integrity is much safer than experience has proved it would be in the keeping of Congress.

LEO.

GENERAL WASHINGTON NEWS.

THE MORRILL TARIFF NOT SO BAD.

The alleged imperfections and imprudences of the Morrill Tariff, upon which an extra session has been defended, are found to be largely exaggerated, if not entirely unfounded. Mr. BARNEY assures me that he will find no difficulty in executing the law with his present force, and that its provisions are quite as explicit as such laws are usually made, and that the changes from the previous system are not so violent and general as is supposed. A gentleman from Maryland told me today that the new tariff was doing much to keep that State loyal. He represents the iron and coal interests of the State, and he thinks the same beneficial influences will be felt in Virginia and North Carolina, in both of which States the mining interests are fast becoming paramount.

FINANCES OF THE CONFEDERATE STATES.

The financial embarrassments of the "Confederate States" are betraying themselves at every turn. Yesterday's TIMES exposed some of the evidences of the pecuniary troubles of secession by calling public attention to the fact that the $5,000,000 of the $15,000,000 loan of the Confederate States are being "apportioned among" (that is, forced upon) the Banks of New-Orleans, Mobile, &c. Have you noticed, also, that the very first of the $1,000,000 Treasury Notes, issued by the Provisional Government of the seceded States, were taken "by the Secretaries of War and the Treasury in payment of their quarter's salaries." The significance of this fact is apparent when it is remembered that the test of financial soundness in any Government consists of its ability to pay all Government dues in gold.

An old Clerk of the Treasury Department, who was South last week on private business, met there Ex-Secretary HOWELL COBB, with whom he had some conversation relative to the financial condition of the Government of the United States. Mr. COBB's experience in the Southern Confederacy does not seem to have improved his judgment at all in the matter of financial estimates, for he continues to come as wide of the mark as ever. In the conversation referred to, he expressed the opinion that the revenues of the Treasury would be only about $1,000,000 per month; that, under this state of facts, the funds would be speedily exhausted, and that, as there is authority to borrow only $27,000,000, which, with the $1,000,000 per month for the ensuing year, would foot up only $39,000,000, while the expenses of the Government must be about $55,000,000, the Treasury must be bankrupted inevitably.

The figures in the Department show, in fact, an increase of revenue over last year, and the revenue is coming in at the rate of $3,000,000 per month, instead of $1,000,000, which Mr. COBB graciously allows. During the two weeks ending April 9, 1860, the receipts in the Treasury were $1,471,241 48. The receipts during the corresponding fortnight of 1861 were $1,500,667 34; increase in 1861 $29,425 81.

It should be remembered, too, that these results are attained at a time when the new Tariff is operating unfavorably towards the Treasury, because goods are withdrawing from bond for consumption in cases where the duty is less under the old Tariff than under the new, while merchandise which can be taken out of bond at reduced duties under the new Tariff are allowed to remain. Unless a war shall occur, Government is likely to have abundant means during the coming year.

SUMPTER AND PICKENS CANNOT STAND BOMBARDMENT.

Gentlemen skilled as engineers, and whose judgment is usually sound, express the opinion that neither Pickens nor Sumpter can withstand bombardment, if their assailants are not operated against by land forces. The forts in question were not constructed to sustain a siege, but to defend harbors against hostile fleets. For the latter purpose they are admirably adapted; no "wooden walls" could withstand the fire from their batteries, or do themselves harm; but a well-sustained fire from different points on the adjacent shores, it is maintained, will reduce them both in time,—unless they have men enough and guns enough to promptly demolish the assailing forts.

SWAGGERING NAVAL OFFICERS.

An agent of the Navy Department might be profitably employed in an occasional stroll through the hotel lobbies at Washington, to notice the language and deportment of some who wear the naval buttons, and yet constantly and publicly swagger about the folly of the Government undertaking to bring the "Southern Confederacy" to terms. It is not often that a naval officer thus dishonors the button,—but when he does, if he has not the manliness to resign, it would be advisable to ship him to sea somewhere where he could do no harm if he should take the notion to turn traitor.

A. B. DICKINSON, on Thursday, formally accepted the mission to Nicaragua.

GUARD DUTY BY THE CLERKS.

It is suggested that the Secretaries of the various departments call upon the clerks to perform guard duty at each Department where they are stationed. In this way all the loyal employes will be very easily discovered, and the shakey ones detected. I have the assurance that the experiment is to be tried in connection with the present military movements in the city.

AFFAIRS IN NEW-GRANADA.

The Government of New-Granada has no force with which to render effective its recent decree blockade of the forts of Rio Hacha, Santa Marta, Carthagena and Zapote, in the Atlantic, these forts being in the complete possession of the revolutionists, So far as the Pacific is concerned, the forts of Buenaventura, Tumaco, etc., have been partially blockaded for the past six months or more, by small vessels fitted out at Panama—but I believe this does not directly much concern American interests, although it does so indirectly, as the business of the Panama Railroad is somewhat lessened by any disturbances affecting the trade of the Pacific.

UNABATED RUSH FOR OFFICE.

There was a great rush at the White House again to-day of office-seekers. Most of them failed to gain admittance on account of the exciting news. The entire remainder of the Boston appointments were made, to-day, as follows:

Surveyor, CHARLES A. PHELPS.
Navy Agent, EUGENE L. NORTON.
United States District-Attorney, RICHARD H. DANA.
Marshal, JOHN S. KEYES.

A strong, but unsuccessful effort to defeat this slate was made.

The crowd of New-York office-seekers is increasing. CHARLES A. STETSON denies that he is a candidate for Marshal, or any other office.

CALIFORNIA APPOINTMENTS.

The following additional appointments have been made for California:

Appraiser, JOHN P. ZANE.
Collector at Monterey, JOHN T. PORTER.
Collector at Stockton, S. W. SPERRY.
Collector at Benicia, S. M. SWAIN.
Collector at San Diego, JOSHUA SLOANE.
Collector at San Pedro, OSCAR MACY.

WM. BELL has been appointed Postmaster at Great Salt Lake City, Utah Territory.

THE NEWS IN NEW-YORK.

Yesterday was a day of excitements. Rumors apparently well grounded concerning the progress of affairs at Charleston flitted through Wall-street, pervaded the thoroughfares and produced sensations of surprise, indignation and rejoicings, according to the nature of the mind to which they were brought. Dispatches were received stating that President DAVIS had, after consultation with his Cabinet, directed Gen. BEAUREGARD to allow unmolested passage of the Federal transports with their loads of supplies for Fort Sumpter, thereby obviating immediate hostilities; others that Maj. ANDERSON and Gen. BEAUREGARD were consulting together, and the probabilities were that the Fort would be surrendered so soon as its supplies were exhausted; and still others announcing that the war had actually begun. The first-mentioned dispatch was generally credited, and the feeling was almost universal that a great moral victory had been achieved by the United States Government.

At 5 o'clock in the afternoon, however, all uncertainty was set at rest. The telegraphic wire brought the long looked-for intelligence that WAR HAS BEGUN, and that the forces of the Confederated Traitors have struck the first blow. Expected as was the news, it produced a most remarkable and wide-spread sensation. Many had hoped the contest might yet be avoided; "others" thought the Federal Government would back down rather than shed blood; and others were certain that a Divine Providence would interfere to prevent so fratricidal a strife. The bulletin boards were surrounded; the streets near them were blockaded, and the fast-gathering multitude were only satisfied when the self-appointed reader had read himself hoarse in the frequent repetition of the brief announcement of the facts. Hundreds af anxious inquirers besieged the telegraph and publication offices, confident that there might yet be some item of information which was withheld from the masses, and they were only appeased when told that they were in possession of all, and that until this morning's papers were out they could have no more.

"Good, good," exclaimed many a one, as he read the statement, or as it was repeated to him by a friend, "at last we have reached a crisis; something must be done." The feeling of rejoicing was everywhere to be met, that Major ANDERSON had not lowered his flag, and that President LINCOLN had determined to sustain, even at so fearful a cost, the honor of the country. Of the very many with whom we conversed, and from whom we heard the freeset expression of opinions, we did not find a single individual who did not respond heartily to the sentiment, "Thank Heaven we have a Government." Speculations and wagers of all kinds were the order of the night, as to the probable effect of this or that battery, of the arrival and probable action of the fleet, and of the result of this first contest; and very long odds were offered and taken that Sumpter would silence Moultrie, and that the fleet, on arrival, would find but little to do. However that may be, the war has begun—the aggressors were the Confederated forces, the Federal post has returned vigorously the fire, and the entire moral support of the North stands about the President in this trying moment, as will the entire physical force stand at his side if a more trying hour should come.

THE PENNSYLVANIA WAR BILL.

HARRISBURGH, Friday, April 12.

The War bill passed both Houses to-night, without amendment. Gov. CURTIN waited at the Executive office to sign it. It is signed.

The Charleston dispatches about hostilities were announced in both Houses, and produced a profound sensation.

Mr. SMITH, a Democratic member of the House, after the Charleston dispatches were received, changed his vote to aye on the War bill. All the Democrats of both Houses voted against it. The bill appropriates $500,000 for the purpose of arming and equipping the militia; authorizes a temporary loan; provides for the appointment of an Adjutant-General, Commissary-General, and Quartermaster-General, who, with the Governor, are to have power to carry the act into effect.

EFFECTS OF THE WAR IN BALTIMORE.

BALTIMORE, Friday, April 12.

The Charleston news was not generally promulgated here until after midnight. It produced a profound sensation, and general expressions of regret at

FRIDAY, April 12—P. M.

There was a partial improvement in the demand for Stocks to-day, and a consequent recovery of 1@1¼ ₱ cent. from the low sales of Thursday. In the speculative temper of the Street the change cannot yet be called a very marked one, as the freer buying noticed this forenoon was generally ascribed rather to the closing up of short contracts, under the apprehension that the next news from Charleston might turn the market against them, than to any very strong conviction that the present critical issue at Fort Sumpter would result in successful negotiation instead of battle. The anxiety was great throughout the day to hear from that point, and it was increased by the rumor that while the Southern telegraph was open, as usual, to other cities in that direction, no dispatches had come through from Charleston. At the Second Board the market held on steady at the improvement of the morning, the speculators on either side being indisposed to risk a heavy business on the uncertainty which rested over the Southern news. The Federal and State securities manifested a good degree of steadiness. The United States of 1881 sold at 93½ ₱ cent., which is an improvement on yesterday's bid, and 1 ₱ cent. more was paid for the 5 ₱ cents of 1874. Missouris closed in demand, at 60@60½ ₱ cent., and there was a diminished offering of Tennessees and Virginias. Treasury Bills of the January issues, bearing 10¾@12 ₱ cent., are in some demand at premiums which leave the buyer about 6 ₱ cent. interest net on his Money, and already there is an inquiry for the new Convertible bills awarded yesterday, at about par, and parties who failed or declined to participate in the Bank list are now applying for the bills second hand. Messrs. ROBBINS & SON also had telegraphic applications on the subject this forenoon from their New-England correspondents. The following participated in the Bank bid of yesterday at par. A portion of the money is already paid into the Sub-Treasury, although the official award is not yet at hand:

Bank of Commerce, in New-York	$500,000
American Exchange Bank	300,000
Metropolitan Bank	250,000

Robert L. Kennedy	25,000
Henry Delafield	20,000
John A. Stevens	90,000
Total	$2,500,000

The Railway Share list was 2 ₱ cent. higher on several of the Western Roads; the best advance being had on Illinois Central, Michigan Central and Rock Island. On Erie there was also a recovery of full 2 ₱ cent., and about the same on Hudson and Harlem Preferred. New-York Central, which leads the speculative list, opened before the early Board at 73½@⅝, and soon after went up, on the printed sales, to 74½ ₱ cent., closing at the Second Board about 74½@⅝ ₱ cent. Pacific Mail and Panama participated in the demand, the former advancing to 79½ ₱ cent.

Later in the afternoon there was not much done on the Street; the absence of authentic news from Charleston creating a dull market at the close; prices quoted about as follows:

Central	74	Galena	69
Erie	26	Rock Island	50
Hudson	41	Michigan Central	50½
Harlem Preferred	37	Michigan Guaranteed	32½
Pacific	79½	Toledo	30½
Reading	37½	Missouris	60½
Illinois Central	70½	Tennessees	70½

In the Exchange market, to-day, for the European mail of Saturday, there was a fair business done on Paris, at f.5.30@f.5.28¾, while the sales on London were moderate, at 107½@107¾ for Bankers', and 106¾@107¼ for Merchants' bills. In the Discount market we hear of no alteration in rates from 5@7 ₱ cent. according to the dates of first-class bills. Loans to Brokers, returnable on demand, are easy, at 5@6 ₱ cent., and we hear of occasional deposits being left at call with the old Stock firms, as low as 4 ₱ cent. The California steamer, this afternoon, delivered $1,110,231 in Gold, as follows:

The St. Louis Democrat remarks on the Public Credit of Missouri:

"Now, the entire taxable property of the State is about [illegible],000, and the revenue to be annually raised to support the Government, and meet the interest on the State debt, is some $1,500,000. Add to this the amount provided by the Legislature to be raised from poll tax, and some other small items which the Auditor foots up to $300,000, and it will be seen that our resources are ample to keep the credit of the State in a perfectly sound condition. The interest due on the first of July next, is provided for, and if perfect solvency and prompt payment of interest on all indebtedness is an evidence of ability to carry liabilities, then Missouri Stocks are as safe an investment as can be made, and there is no reason within the range of a pecuniary consideration, why they should not be at par.

"In regard to repudiation, as we have before intimated, that can only follow a dire necessity, and the known ability precludes such necessity. This brings us to an interesting point in connection with the subject, which is, that three millions of the bonds of Missouri are a basis of the issues of Illinois banks, and that money is now being discredited in consequence of the depreciation of those stocks in the New-York market. But the reason of the depreciation is certainly not in a want of financial soundness in the State."

The net receipts of the Harlem Road for the month of March are as follows:

1860	$88,598 48
1861	90,710 05
Increase	$2,111 57

No. 128 BROADWAY, March 11, 1861.

G. W. CLARKE, Esq.

MY DEAR SIR: In the pressure of professional engagements I forgot to excuse the withdrawal of my two sons last November. I desire now to say to you that a change of residence to the country rendered it necessary, and that at an early day they will, I trust, return to your excellent Institution, to remain until fitted for College. Of the unsurpassed advantages of your School I can bear witness, for the progress of my sons under your care was all and more than I could have expected. Their residence in the country has led me to believe that New-York City is the best place for the instruction and training of youth—as I doubt not that your school is one of the best in the City. Yours truly,

JOHN LIVINGSTON.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Hostilities commenced at Charleston about 4 o'clock yesterday morning! The first two guns were fired from Fort Moultrie against Fort Sumpter, when Major ANDERSON immediately replied with three of his barbette guns, and the action soon became general, and continued until it became too dark to operate with certainty, when the firing ceased, to be commenced again at daylight this morning. The dispatches from Charleston, which we publish in the order of their reception, contain various absurd statements relative to the execution done by the batteries against Fort Sumpter, telegraphed probably on the authority of those interested in having the country believe that the fortress is to be immediately reduced. It is best to await intelligence from a more reliable source before accepting all the statements made. The only definite intelligence relative to the fleet of relief vessels sent from this port and from other points, is the statement that three steamers, two of which were the Harriet Lane and the Pawnee, had made their appearance off the harbor. The impression prevailed in Charleston that an attempt would be made during the night to reinforce Fort Sumpter by means of small boats. Another impression also prevailed—which may be considered somewhat significant—that Major ANDERSON, from the regularity and spirit of his replies to the iron hail poured in upon him, must have more men under his command than has been supposed.

We lay before our readers this morning a copy of the telegraphic correspondence which passed between Gen. BEAUREGARD and the War Department of Montgomery, preceding the opening of the bombardment. The first message was from Gen. BEAUREGARD, and informed Mr. WALKER, the Secretary of War for the Southern Confederacy, that President LINCOLN had notified Gov. PICKENS and himself that Fort Sumpter was to be supplied with provisions, peaceably, if possible, but by force, if necessary. This was followed by an order to demand the evacuation of the fort, which demand was accordingly made at 12 o'clock on Thursday, and Major ANDERSON was given until 6 o'clock to decide. The reply of Major ANDERSON, which is telegraphed in full, was, of course, a refusal to comply with the demand, in language which can leave no doubt as to the high sense of honor and manly patriotism of that gallant officer. This reply also conveyed an intimation that, if not battered to pieces, he would probably be starved out in a few days; whereupon Gen. BEAUREGARD was further instructed to ascertain whether Major ANDERSON would agree to evacuate within a given time, and not to use his guns against the beleaguering force unless they fired upon him. This, however, Major ANDERSON positively declined to do, and the correspondence closed. Had he acceded to the proposition, it would have rendered it impossible for him to give aid to any vessel which might attempt to furnish him with supplies.

The City of Washington, of course, was thrown into the most intense state of excitement on the reception of the war news—the more so, as various dispatches giving assurances that the vessels conveying provisions to Fort Sumpter had been allowed to enter Charleston harbor, and others of a like peaceful character had been previously received, and the community had almost settled down into the belief that no hostilities would occur. When the true condition of affairs became known, however, the news was at once posted in conspicuous places, and the wildest scene of excitement ensued. Major ANDERSON'S name was in every mouth, and the general expression was one of satisfaction, that the honor of the Government was about to be vindicated. The Cabinet was immediately called together by President LINCOLN, and at last accounts remained in consultation upon the grave events now progressing. In this City, also, the excitement ran high, and crowds besieged the newspaper offices until a late hour, eager for the latest news.

A telegram from Charleston informs us that the plan adopted by the Government for the provisioning of Fort Sumpter, is one suggested by Mr. FOX, who recently paid the fortification a visit. This intelligence is gained through the rascality of the Secessionists, who have not scrupled to intercept and violate private dispatches before hostilities commenced.

An extra session of the Congress of the Confederate States has been called for the 29th inst., to adopt such measures as may become necessary in view of the struggle which has been inaugurated at Charleston.

The bill for perfecting the military organization of the State of Pennsylvania passed both Houses of the Legislature yesterday, without amendment, and it was immediately signed by Gov. CURTIN, and became a law. The warlike news from Charleston had a great effect in expediting its passage.

Of the troops that arrived from Texas in the Coatzacoalcos, 100 have departed for Washington, 232 for Carlisle, Penn., and 417 for Fort Hamilton. The enlistments of the City recruiting offices continue to increase; the Navy-yard is the scene of unwonted vigor, and the Wabash and Roanoke are being rapidly prepared for sea. Chief Engineer KING has been detached from the station.

In the New-York State Senate yesterday the Assembly amendments to the Harlem Bridge bill were concurred in. The Senate passed the bills to widen Nassau-street; relative to the Chamberlaincy of New-York City; to submit to the people the question of amending the State Constitution; the annual tax levy of the City. The Congressional Apportionments bill, as published in the TIMES of yesterday, was passed, 17 to 9. The concurrent resolution to adjourn at 12 M. to-day was adopted. The Senate, by a vote of 22 to 8, resolved to adhere to its action on the Supply bill. In the Assembly, a humorous discussion arose on a Jacksonian act of Mr. CAMP, who [illegible] as a member of the select Committee on opening Madison-avenue, pocketed the bill and refused to deliver it up. The House compelled Mr. CAMP to disgorge. The bill appropriating half a million dollars to arm the militia of the State passed by a vote of 78 to 25. The expenditure is left to the discretion of the Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Secretary of State and Comptroller. The bill to prevent the mutilation of the records of New-York City was passed. A spirited debate took place on the Supply bill. The House refused to concur in the Senate amendments increasing the compensation to the Delevan House for entertaining Mr. LINCOLN, increasing the compensation of the clerks and pages of the two Houses, and the appropriation of $5,000 to the Lima College. The bill to amend the act relative to the opening of Madison-avenue was killed.

The steamship North Star, from Aspinwall on the 4th inst., with the mails, passengers and treasure from San Francisco, reached this port yesterday afternoon. Her treasure list amounts to $1,110,231. The news from California, as usual, is anticipated by the Pony Express. From New-Granada the intelligence is important. A collision had taken place between the Government forces and the Revolutionists at Buenaventura, in which the latter were entirely victorious. The action occurred on the 26th ult., and lasted from 5 A. M. to 3 P. M. The Government forces consisted of only one hundred men, against about four hundred revolutionists, but they had the advantage of an entrenched position. Only about twenty-five of them escaped, the rest being either killed in action or burnt to death—the building in which they were entrenched being set on fire by a Congreve rocket. Among those who lost their lives was Dr. HAYAS, a former Secretary of the Treasury. The Revolutionists also appear to have been successful in several other affairs, of which the details are not given. OSPINA himself, at the head of a considerable body of troops, had made an unsuccessful demonstration against MOSQUERA, which resulted in a temporary armistice, which was to be continued, provided OSPINA agreed to certain conditions, the first of which was an election for a President pro tem.

In the Court of Appeals, yesterday, two or three cases were argued, of but little importance to others than the parties litigant. At Chambers of the Supreme Court, before Justice CLERKE, the habeas corpus of Mrs. LOCKE, of Brooklyn, for the relief of her "infant" husband, alleged to be detained by his cruel father, was again in hearing, the father denying the rigor of his authority. The case was postponed until Tuesday next. The Mountjoy matter, which was to have been heard before Justice BOSWORTH, in the Superior Court, was adjourned to this day. In the General Sessions there was one acquittal on a charge of grand larceny, and one conviction for assault and battery. The latter case occupied nearly the whole day. The prisoner was an auctioneer by the name of ZENO D. BURNHAM.

The Stock Exchange improved in demand yesterday, and prices recovered 1½@2 ℔ cent. from the low sales of Thursday. The absence of news from Charleston to the close of business hours caused a dull feeling after the Second Board. Exchange on London, 107½@107¾. No change in Money rates. The Federal and State Securities (including Treasury Bills) were quite steady.

The movements in Breadstuffs, yesterday, were less extensive. Prices, however, were quoted firm. The sales of Cotton were unimportant. A moderate business was transacted in Provisions, Whisky, Groceries, Hay, Tallow, Codfish, Mackerel, Clover Seed, Resin, and Spirits Turpentine. The changes in other branches of trade were trivial.

The War Against the Government of the United States.

The Disunion conspiracy, which has for the last twenty years been gnawing at the heart-strings of the great American Republic, has at last culminated in open war upon its glittering and resplendent flag. For the first time in the history of the United States, an organized attempt is made to destroy, by force of arms, the Government which the American People have formed for themselves—to overthrow the glorious Constitution which has made us the envy of the world. The history of the world does not show so causeless an outrage. Amid all the rebellions against government which have stained the annals of civilized and Christian nations, not one can be found which had not more provocation than that which yesterday opened a war at Charleston upon the forces and Government of the United States. Not a solitary act of oppression,—not a single act of wrong,—not the faintest possible trespass upon Southern rights can be urged in extenuation of this infamous rebellion. Whatever may be the result of the war which the South has now begun, it will stand on the pages of history, for all time to come, as the blackest and most dishonoring outbreak of irrational and ferocious passion, which has ever marked the checkered annals of national progress. Whatever the leaders of this conspiracy may believe, the civilized world will have but one opinion of their conduct; they will be greeted with the indignant scorn and execration of the world.

Our dispatches from Charleston state that by order of the Government at Montgomery, Maj. ANDERSON was summoned to surrender the fort which the Government of the United States had appointed him to hold. He refused, peremptorily, but in as conciliatory a tone as was consistent with the nature of his reply. Thereupon the bombardment of the fort was commenced, and was kept up throughout the day, without any material result, so far as our information goes, on either side. The firing, indeed, seems to have been suspiciously innocent. Whether it was so in fact, or not, we can scarcely expect to know with any great degree of accuracy so long as our means of information, are exclusively in the hands of the rebels. It seems scarcely credible that Major ANDERSON should have discharged his guns all day without inflicting any loss upon the forces against whom they were directed. The report that two of his guns were silenced by the hostile fire can scarcely have any better foundation than the conjectures, aided by the hopes, of his assailants.

At the same time it must be borne in mind that history affords no example of a more unequal contest. Major ANDERSON has only 70 or 80 men under his command,—not enough to work more than 10 or 12 guns; while against him he has five heavy batteries, with from 10 to 30 guns each, with six or eight thousand men, and reinforcements constantly arriving. Under such circumstances it will be absolutely impossible for him to make a protracted defence. Unless he is reinforced by the Government he must inevitably surrender. There can be little doubt that a part at least of the troops which have left this port within the last few days have gone directly to Fort Sumpter,—and will probably arrive and attempt to enter this morning. They will encounter the heavy fire of the batteries erected to oppose them, but there is reason to believe that a portion of them at least will succeed in entering the fort. If so, the defence will be prolonged, and with proper efforts on the part of the Government, it may be permanently held.

One thing is certain. Now that the rebels have opened the war, the People will expect the Government to defend itself with vigor and determination. There is no room for half-way measures now. There can be no further talk of a pacific policy,—of measures of conciliation,—of fears of exasperating the people of the Southern States. The day for that has passed. The South has chosen war, and it must have all the war it wants. The issue is not made by the United States Government. It is made by the South. The Administration has gone to the very verge of pusillanimity in its forbearance. It has endured wrongs, and tamely submitted to outrages, which no other Government on the face of the earth would have endured for an hour. It has done everything consistent with honor, and many things which it is very hard to reconcile with a proper feeling of national self-respect, to avert the horrible alternative which is at last thrust upon them. For no other offence than that of trying to relieve its soldiers from starvation, the batteries of the Southern Confederacy have been opened upon the Government of the United States. The flag of the Republic is to be lowered in disgrace—or the issue of war is to be met.

The President of the United States must not hesitate an instant as to the policy he will pursue, nor must he spare anything of vigor and energy in the manner of putting it into execution. He has command of the Army and Navy of the United States, and has full power to summon the militia of the Republic, for the protection of the Government and in defence of the Constitution. He must instantly put forth every power at his command to maintain the authority which he represents. Fort Sumpter must not be surrendered, if there is force enough in the United States to hold it. That point is the head of the rebellion, and it is precisely there that a stand must be made. The people of this country will feel humiliated and disgraced if that fort is ever surrendered to the traitors who have commenced the war by firing upon it. It must be reinforced at every hazard—and if the forces already sent thither are not sufficient for that purpose, they must be promptly followed by others.

But there is a still greater danger impending over the Government. There cannot be the slightest doubt that an attempt will be immediately made by the rebels to seize upon the Capital. That is the point which it is of infinite importance that they should have. The possession of Washington would give them instantly a position in the eyes of the world, and especially of the people of this country, which the possession of every fort and every arsenal on Southern soil, and of every war vessel in Southern waters, could not secure. It is idle, therefore, to shut our eyes to the certainty that they will make a speedy and desperate attempt to seize it. Forty-eight hours would land as many men as can be embarked at Charleston, at the very gates of Washington. Where is the force that can meet such an advance, should it be made?

President LINCOLN owes it to himself and to the country, to put the Capital in a condition to defy any attempt that can possibly be made upon it. He should summon into the public service, from the nearest neighboring States capable of answering the demand, at least 25,000 men,—ready to start at an hour's notice, and able to place themselves in Washington in advance of any force that could be brought against them.

Upon one thing President LINCOLN may rely. The people expect him to meet this awful emergency in the history of our Government, with a courage and a promptitude proportionate to the crisis. Party divisions have ceased,—party clamor is drowned by the roar of cannon aimed at the heart of the American Republic. We have none among us who are ready to see this glorious Government prostrate in the dust at the feet of traitors. There is a patriotism in the hearts of our people that overrides and overrules all the suggestions of partizanship, and silences every breath of hostility to the Government upon which we all repose. The public sentiment can only be shocked and disappointed by measures inadequate to the crisis. It demands a vigorous, comprehensive, and courageous policy. The issue has been forced upon us and it must be met. Mr. LINCOLN in this emergency must listen to no timid suggestions, to no halting or apprehensive advice. The supremacy of the Government must be vindicated by its power, or it must be trampled under foot and extinguished forever. The President will be false to his oath, as well as to his nature, if he hesitates an instant as to the course which he must pursue.

War at Last.

Through all our streets last evening at a late hour the news spread with electrical rapidity that the great contest had at length commenced—ten thousand armed rebels in Charleston harbor and its environs commencing an assault on Fort Sumpter, defended by Maj. ANDERSON, of the United States Army, at the head of seventy or eighty men. Everywhere the news was met as if a heavy burden of anxiety had been suddenly lifted from the public mind, the great majority of our citizens hailing the intelligence as the sure "beginning of the end"—the one thing needful, though painful to be done, before the supremacy of the laws could be vindicated, and the prosperity of the country reëstablished on the basis of a Government determined and strong enough to vindicate its power and enforce the respect due to its flag.

In taking the initiative in this contest, the rebel States have done the one thing requisite towards insuring to Mr. LINCOLN'S Administration the cordial, hearty and patriotic support of all ranks and classes of citizens in the Northern States, irrespective of former party divisions, and of all loyal citizens throughout the entire Union. The stirring and startling news contained in our columns this morning cannot fail to send a thrill of passionate admiration through every heart that is capable of appreciating the firmness, moderation, devotion and courage exhibited by Major ANDERSON, both in his correspondence with the rebel General, and in his subsequent heroic defence of the beleaguered fortress. Never has more reluctance to commerce the work of bloodshed been coupled with more unshrinking readiness to sacrifice everything in obedience to the demands of patriotism and duty.

Confined with his small garrison during weary weeks and months in a water-girdled fortress, cut off from all apparent hopes of assistance, and surrounded by thousands of active enemies constantly employed in military preparations for his destruction,—Major ANDERSON deserves credit for the more than common fortitude displayed in his refusal to accede to the easy, but insidious terms proffered in Secretary WALKER'S dispatch to Gen. BEAUREGARD. He had merely to promise not to fire upon the rebel fortifications until they fired upon him, and he might have remained unmolested; but as such a course would have precluded him from assisting any vessels sent to his relief by the General Government, Major ANDERSON firmly declined accepting this proposal, preferring death itself to giving a pledge inconsistent with his loyalty, duty and military sense of honor.

Hereafter, whatever may be the issue of the present struggle in Charleston Harbor, Major Anderson [illegible] of the gratitude of the American people through generations yet unborn—his name taking sudden rank with the brightest to be found on the roll-call of American history, and going far to redeem by its lustre the credit of our Army from the foul stains of treachery and dishonor entailed upon a portion of the military service by the action of such traitor officers as TWIGGS, and BEAUREGARD and Col. HARDEE. It is to be hoped, however, that the timely arrival of the fleet may give victory to the cause of truth, justice and national right,—the last telegrams from Charleston reporting that three of the war vessels dispatched from this port were off the mouth of the harbor, and making ready to operate in support of Fort Sumpter.

Speaking on the mere probabilities suggested by this intelligence, it is fair to conjecture that the fleet must yesterday morning have landed the soldiers and parks of flying artillery, which they carried away from here, at Bull's Bay—a point about twenty-five miles on this side of Charleston, from whence the soldiers could march down to take Fort Moultrie and Sullivan's Island in the rear, while the fleet passed onward to attempt forcing a passage up the main ship-channel, thus drawing off the attention of the rebels and distracting their fire, if accomplishing no more desirable result.

It is very clear that unless prompt relief be afforded to the gallant defenders of Fort Sumpter, their courage can avail nothing against the overwhelming forces arrayed against them. They are but seventy fighting men all told, and must soon be worn out by the labors of cannonading during the day, from before sunrise to sunset, and repelling assaults with scaling ladders and other modes of attack throughout the night. We have full confidence, however, that the National Government, now thoroughly aroused, will exert its whole power in their defence, and that nothing will be left undone to make the rebel chiefs of the great conspiracy bitterly repent their attack on the lone fortress in Charleston harbor.

The South and the Union.

The most remarkable feature of the political complications of the day is the forbearance of the Government of the United States. The history of the world furnishes no parallel to it. Not a solitary instance can be found in which any nation, sensitive enough to feel an injury or an insult, and powerful enough to enforce respect, has submitted to a tithe of the outrages which have been perpetrated upon the Government of the United States with entire impunity. The evidence to this purport, though tedious in the frequency of cases, extends over no very protracted period of the national history. The period of nullification may in fact be considered as its era. Under the pretext of guaranteeing the security of its own peculiar social system, a settled system of treatment was devised and applied to a portion of the Union, entirely overriding the covenants of the Constitution, and defying the requirements of law. Of other instances at our service, it might be sufficient to cite the repudiation of that clause of the Constitution which prescribes the equality of citizenship. Citizens of Northern States, employed in traffic at the South, have been liable to arrest and imprisonment without any process of law whatever. If the opportunity to seize a free negro mariner, and of subsequently selling him to pay the expense of his imprisonment, were offered, no consideration of Federal obligation prevented the seizure or the sale.

When against this monstrous injustice, and unjustifiable repudiation of constitutional engagements, the State of Massachusetts sent a Commissioner in the person of Mr. SAMUEL HOARE, to protest, the same arrogant contempt of the National Government, and its pledges to protect its subjects, led to the expulsion of the Commissioner from Charleston, under the penalty of death. Citizens of States, in which the system of involuntary servitude was not the predominant interest, could never visit the States where it was without being haunted by sleepless suspicion, or treated with declared outrage. Correspondence lost its secresy and sacredness, and consequently its value; because the most ignorant underling in the Southern postal service was authorized to break the seals and examine the contents of any letters to which, in the exercise of a capricious option, he might think proper to attach suspicion.

These acts in wanton disregard of national authority have succeeded each other through the past thirty years; and have been systematized into a well defined resistance to the requirements of national law. At any stage in the development of this system the Federal Government would have been authorized and indeed amply justified in treating the contemners of law and order in the light of insurgents, rebels and traitors. As we have said, no other Government in the world would have submitted passively to these acts of insult and defiance, without testing its conservative energy by bringing all its power to bear upon the enforcement of the laws, and the conquest of that spirit of insubordination, with the further growth of which the perpetuity of our institutions was plainly irreconcileable. A mistaken and profoundly mischievous inclination to indulgence; a willingness to regard the South in the light of a forward and wayward child, whose caprices should be viewed with tenderness, and exempted from rigorous punishment; a hope that more thorough enlightenment and more facile access to the resources of education, would bring reason and manners in their train; these arguments to forbearance have been traditionally listened to, and have ripened to the mature fruit, which we are reluctantly gathering to-day.

We have acted with the magnanimity with which an elevated civilization always regards a lower, and indeed barbarous condition; and our forbearance has obtained the reward which generous confidence always receives from the craft and faithlessness of barbarism. The Government has fallen a victim to the most dastardly disloyalty and treason ever hatched by conspiracy. Those intrusted with its administration have devoted themselves to its ruin; those sworn to uphold it have overthrown it; its own household has been busy in schemes of assassination. For months past the citizen of the Northern States has been denied all rights of person or property in the Slave States. Outrages, one instance of which would have caused war between independent States, have been repeated, until the public has become insensible to such indignities. Acts of violence and perfidy which would have aroused a foreign State to instant vengeance, have been so frequently suffered, as to demoralize the popular judgment, and confuse the distinction between right and wrong.

But when to these are added the grander facts, of overt and declared rebellion against the Government; the theft of its property—its forts, its light-houses, its arsenals, shipping, mints and money—forbearance, which had long before ceased to be a virtue, became a crime, the magnitude of which finds its only measure in the magnitude of the offence, and the insolence of the offenders. It might, indeed, be difficult to say at what point it would have been wise to have abandoned that meek and tender spirit of Christian forgiveness with which we have continued to visit the misdeeds of these madcaps; but that we persisted in it after an unarmed vessel, the Star of the West, bearing Federal troops and supplies to a Federal fortress had been fired into, escaping immediate destruction only by the happy success of flight, will be considered, we doubt not, by posterity rather as an inexplicable riddle, than as an instance of exalted and long-suffering virtue.

Nor has the new and energetic policy adopted by the present Administration rid itself of the inveterate tendency to deal gently with the rebel States. That Government possesses the means, both in money and men, to sweep the revolted section with armies, as it might environ its coasts with shipping, recent events have given every reason to believe. Or, without this, it might organize among them civil war, and light the frightful fires of servile insurrection, as fanaticism is eagerly urging; measures which mankind, after such weary provocation, might not hesitate to approve. But nothing of all this is contemplated. In its persevering forbearance, the utmost it proposes is to retain so much of its property as it still possesses, and collect the revenues, the omission to secure which would not only be in itself a loss, but encouraging the continuance of a commercial policy at war with our own, would bring ruin upon our commerce and industry. Nothing could have been more moderate; nothing less calculated to provoke hostility, than the course this Administration has pursued; and the world will be at no loss where to rest the responsibility for the hostilities that have at last ensued.

THE GOVERNMENT POLICY.

Intentions of the Administration—Plans for the Relief of Fort Sumpter—Necessity for Holding the Forts.

From Our Own Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, April 11, 1861.

The public mind is still excited by speculations touching the destination of the military and naval expeditions which have been fitted out and sailed recently from New-York; but most persons have accepted the conclusion that one branch of it, at least, is intended for the reinforcement of Fort Pickens, and the other, probably, for the relief of Fort Sumpter.

These conclusions have been strengthened by the fact, now clearly apparent, that the patient forbearance of the Administration has had no effect in inducing the secession leaders to exercise reciprocal forbearance and stay their uplifted hands. On the contrary, while the Government steadily adheres to a policy of peace—avoiding every appearance of menace—they move as steadily forward preparing for offensive WAR; and every mind is now turned to the South in hourly expectation of the announcement of an attack by an overwhelming force, on one or the other of the feeble garrisons which have been so long left unsupported in the beleaguered fortresses.

The final decision of the Administration is, thus far, only conjectured; though it is well known that numerous plans and proposals have been submitted to the War and Navy Departments for the relief of Fort Sumpter, in armed and also in unarmed vessels, which have been indorsed by competent officers and seamen, as well as by energetic and experienced civilians.

Among these propositions are several which have been earnestly discussed, and which are thought to possess claims on the attention of the Executive.

The theme which has received the greatest share of favor among the non-professional aspirants for military distinction, is one which proposes to take the reinforcements and supplies on board a small steam propeller, of light draft, and, on entering the harbor, to lash a vessel much larger than the steamer—so as completely to cover her—as a tow, on each side. The advocates of this plan—for there are several, essentially the same—contend that the shot from the batteries will be intercepted by the outside vessels, and cannot reach the steamer between them, in which the reinforcements are to be conveyed. It is thought that while the men would thus be made secure, there would be no reasonable ground to apprehend that either of the flanking vessels would be sunk, or even very seriously injured, before reaching the landing at the fort.

In behalf of this plan it is contended that vessels of light draft, such as it is proposed to use, can go in at high tide by the Swash Channel, and so keep at least two miles from any battery, until they come within only twenty minutes' run of the landing. The fire, it is maintained, must necessarily be very uncertain during the first half of this run, for the several reasons that the target is small, the distance great, and the movement of the steamer would be rapid. During the next ten minutes, some shot, it is admitted, might take effect on the covering vessels; but it is contended that these could not be sunk in ten minutes, which is all the time that would be needed to reach the landing or run the tow aground at the fortress, while the men would still be protected by the hulls of the flanking vessels, until they could be placed under shelter of the walls of the fortress.

The chief difficulty, it is thought by experienced men on all hands, will be encountered in the discharge of the stores, or passing them from the vessels into the fort, under the heavy cross-fire which will be directed against them while at the landing.

To guard against any attempt to carry the place by surprise, the main entrance to Fort Sumpter has been walled up, so as to leave only a narrow sally-port for communication with the landing, and the vessels would consequently be exposed, while approaching, and after reaching the landing, to a heavy fire from Forts Moultrie and Johnson, and several batteries on Sullivan's Island and Morris Island. The supplies must be taken into the fort in face of this destructive fire.

Several suggestions have been offered to meet this, which is admitted to be the most serious difficulty in the way, so as to relieve the garrison without exposing the reinforcements, or the crews of the relieving vessels, to needless loss.

The plan which seems to be the most practicable, if not the most favored, is to carry a good share of the indispensable and perishable stores for the garrison as a deck-load, and stowed in water-tight casks; these casks to be so arranged and connected one with another, by lines, that on reaching the landing, the whole load could be instantly rolled overboard into the water between the vessels and the fort, the crew having taken shelter within the fort. A single line only—to which all the other lines connected with the different ranges of casks, are properly attached—need be passed up into the fort, to enable the men, distributed into thirty or forty separate squads, to take the lines, two by two, as they are hauled up, and passing them respectively in opposite directions along the crest of the wall, lift all the supplies, without any exposure, at as many different points, over the parapet, into the fortress. It is obvious that, with proper [illegible] precautions, the execution of this plan would be attended with very little risk, and no extraordinary exposure of the troops or crews. The vessels would be detained but a very few minutes at the landing. But if, by any mishap, they should be so injured that it would be impossible for them to get away, they would [illegible] would serve to form an efficient addition to the reinforcements of the garrison.

Another plan, in other respects similar to this, but dispensing with the covering vessels, because of the retardation which they would occasion, and relying on such protection only as the projector thinks he could devise on board the vessel itself, for the emergency—but proposing, as a part of the plan, to scuttle and sink the steamer near the wharf—finds its chief recommendation in the fact that the party who proposed it had long ago foreseen the difficulty that has actually occurred, and endeavored to induce the late Administration to reinforce the naval station and forts at Pensacola, and Fort Sumpter; also, before there was a hostile movement made at Pensacola, or a single rebel gun in position to bear on Fort Sumpter.

Opinion here, long divided on the question of the expediency of reinforcing these forts, is rapidly assuming a more decided form—and leaning more and more, as an inevitable necessity, to an active, vigorous, and yet a strictly defensive policy, on the part of the Government.

It is becoming daily more apparent that the belief which has prevailed at the South, that the Administration is too timid, and the Federal arm too feeble, for the protection of the country, has served only to accelerate the spread of the rebellion.

The allegiance of the people, North or South, cannot be commanded by a nation that is either unable or unwilling to afford them protection.

The people of this country have been not less proud of its power and influence than of the unrestricted liberty which they enjoy under the protection of its banner.

Continued inaction in the presence of armed and menacing rebellion, has discouraged the active breathing patriotism of the country; and all hopes are now turned anxiously to the threatened points to learn what measures of protection to the beleaguered fortresses, and the few brave soldiers within them, have been provided by the Administration.

The practicability of reinforcing Fort Pickens with little risk or exposure, is admitted by experienced persons on all hands; and the "military necessity" which, a short time since, was represented to demand the evacuation of Fort Sumpter, can be no longer alleged.

Neither can it be maintained that Fort Sumpter is of no strategical value. On the contrary, there is only too much reason to believe that its continued occupation by the Government may become of immense importance as a means of protecting the country from some of the most serious consequences of the aggressive war of invasion, clearly indicated and openly threatened by the revolutionists. It may become absolutely necessary, at no distant day, to blockade some of the ports of the seceded States, purely as a measure of public defence, and without any reference to the question of revenue.

The guns of Fort Sumpter, in the hands of the United States, will serve alone as an ample blockade for the port of Charleston, whenever it may become necessary to apply them to that use. If this necessity should unfortunately come, the fort will serve to relieve several naval vessels of the duty of attending to that port.

If a blockade should become indispensable for any cause, one of two things must very speedily follow, and they cannot be too soon foreseen, or too earnestly pressed upon the attention of the country: Either the people of the Cotton States must rise in arms and overthrow the usurpers of their State Goverments, or the rebel army must march northwardly, and attempt to subdue the country by the sword.

A blockade of the Southern ports is equivalent to starvation; and this policy once forced upon the Government, there will remain, we repeat, but these two alternatives for the rebellion to choose between—submission to the constitutional authority of the Government, or a war of invasion directed against the District of Columbia and the Northern States.

Submission to the laws is more than it is reasonable now to hope for; and there is, therefore, every reason to expect the alternative—a Northern campaign—preceded by bastard State Rights proclamations and calls to arms, through the tide-water and pied-montane regions of Virginia and North Carolina, and desperate attempts, within and without their borders, to revolutionize those States.

In this condition of things, or, indeed, under almost any condition of possible hostilities, the retention of Fort Sumpter will become of momentous consequence to the country; for, until that stronghold can be reduced, it will serve to retain several thousand men in the forts and batteries which environ its walls, where they can do as little mischief to the country as in any other position.

The besieging force cannot be withdrawn to aid in a Northern campaign, since Charleston itself might then be occupied, and the communications of the invading army cut off in South Carolina.

To besiege and take Fort Sumpter, when once effectually garrisoned and supplied, will be an exhausting duty—and the attempt to do it, may help to bring this incipient war to a conclusion much sooner, and less painfully, than an invasion of the North, stimulated by the lust of Black Republican spoils.

Academy of Music.

Miss KELLOGG'S best success so far has been made unquestionably in Linda di Chamounix, an opera which, on its production here last season, we referred to at length as the vehicle that had established the lady's position. It was repeated last evening to one of the most fashionable audiences we have ever seen in our handsome Fourteenth-street establishment, and the public verdict fully confirmed that previously rendered by the critics. In the second act, where prima donne not unfrequently make a comparative failure of a situation which is full of natural pathos, Miss KELLOGG is all that correct taste and sensibility can require. Her acting, without being visibly studied, is full of good dramatic effects, and, what is better, never loses the grace and charm of maidenhood. Vocally regarded, the rôle of Linda is admirably adapted to the lady's quality of voice, and especially to her style of singing. We may say briefly that, in all respects, the performance was eminently satisfactory, and merited all the applause that was bestowed on it. In the last act, Miss KELLOGG introduced a new polka-finale, written by Sig. MUZIO, a very charming and effective piece.

To day there will be a grand matinée, when the whole of VERDI'S new opera of "Un Ballo in Maschera" will be given. In the evening, at the Brooklyn establishment, ROSSINI'S famous opera of "Moses in Egypt" will be given, and the same work, shorn of all scenic effects, and garbed in decorous citizens' costumes, will be given at our Academy, on to-morrow, (Sunday,) as an oratorio. The work frequently undergoes this slight transformation in Europe.

MELANCHOLY DEATH OF A BOSTON LAWYER.—Mr. JOHN D. AUSTEN, a lawyer, residing at Boston Mass., left home about three weeks since, while laboring under an attack of insanity, and his friends were unable to learn anything of him beyond the fact that he had taken the train for New-York. A full description of his appearance, therefore, was forwarded to the detectives in this City, and his likeness was published last week in one of the illustrated papers in the hope that information respecting him might be obtained. Yesterday morning his body was found drowned in a brook near White Plains, and from the fact that his valuables were still in his pockets and no marks of violence were exhibited, it is thought that he committed suicide while out of his mind. He was about 37 years of age.

To Physicians and Ladies.—The cure of Prolapsus-Uteri and kindred diseases by Motorpathic treatment has now become a well-known fact; attested by several thousand cases treated in hospitals and riding practice. On replacement by this method, the organ, ligaments and abdominal muscles are vitalized and immediately contract, so that no ordinary effort, as jumping, or running up and down stairs can again occasion displacement. In fact such exercises but cause a firmer contraction. This shows the treatment to be in harmony with the natural functions. It causes no pain or inconvenience, and the cure is so reliable as scarcely to admit the possibility of failure. Even sterility yields to its vitalizing effects, unless combined with some incurable malady. It would be but reasonable to suppose the treatment founded on principles which prove so life-giving in one set of organs, if judiciously modified to the needs of other chronic diseases, could but be powerfully efficacious. Such the treatment at Round Hill has proved itself; numerous cures having been made of stubborn complaints which had lingered without help for years. Its success in the cure of premonitory consumption, spinal complaints, paralysis, and loss of the use of limbs, is unprecedented. Marked success has also been had in bronchitis, in restoring broken-down constitutions, and in arousing torpid, nervous and debilitated systems to strength and activity. Dr. HALSTEAD, of the Round Hill Water Cure, Northampton, Mass., cordially invites physicians, to call and test his practice, and witness its results. A circular, sent free on application, giving information of this system, and of the Oriental, Turkish and Russian baths in use here, is particularly commended to their notice. The Water Cure is open Summer and Winter. The most speedy recoveries are made in the cool and Winter months.

Whether a child shall look "like a fright" or a "love" in its outdoor costume, depends in no small degree upon its head covering. The hat, in its shape, its color, its set, its style of trimming, must be appropriate to the age, features, size and figure of the child, or it will be a blemish rather than an ornament; and entertaining the belief that in my new assortment will be found becoming head-coverings for all "mother's pets" and "father's darlings," I hope to see a large representation of these "little people" under the maternal escort.

NURSERY.

The following is an extract from a letter written by Rev. C. Z. Weiser, to the "German Reformed Messenger," Chambersburgh, Penn.

BENEFACTRESS.

There is a woman in the public eye, whose name had all along been associated, in our mind, with the 'Yankee,' 'Quack,' and 'Humbug.' But it is so no longer, and we desire to wrest her name from all such suspicious associations in all other minds. Whatever notions we may have of womanly delicacy and propriety, we will all admit that woman alone is the Nurse—the GOOD Nurse—the BEST Nurse. Whether we shall have female physicians or not is a question which must be decided by time and principle, and not as a matter of taste. Pride, prejudice, caprice and custom may as well behave themselves, for if there is really a want, there will also be a supply—if there be a 'calling,' there will be a 'coming.' Nature and Human Society are always self-supplying, and though Art and Fashion may hinder, they cannot prevent.

Mrs. Winslow does not want to treat you, gentlemen! nor does she prescribe a regimen for your wives; but modestly appears as a messenger of health and happiness to your INFANTS in the cradle. Is there anything improper in that? A nurse of "ten years'" experience can boldly say what is or is not good for a babe—and ought to be listened to. God speed her on her humble but happy mission. She is the most successful physician and most effectual benefactress our little one ever enjoyed—her doting parents not excepted. Just open the door for her, and Mrs. Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the nursery. Of this we are so sure, that we will teach our "Susy" to say, "A BLESSING ON MRS. WINSLOW," for helping her to survive and escape the griping, collicking and teething siege. We confirm every word set forth in the Prospectus. It performs precisely what it professes to perform—every part of it, nothing less. Away with your "Cordial," "Paregoric," "Drops," "Laudanum," and every other narcotic, by which the babe is drugged into stupidity, and rendered dull and idiotic for life!

We have never seen Mrs. WINSLOW—know her only through the preparation of her 'SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING.' If we had the power, we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the Infant race."

HIGHLY IMPORTANT TO MOTHERS.—MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP is the only thing that you can rely upon to give rest to yourself, and relief and health to your infant.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been the means of restoring the drooping spirits in many mothers.

This is the season of the year to use MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP.

To every mother who has children suffering from any of the complaints incident to the period of teething, we say do not let your own prejudices, or the prejudices of others, stand in the way of the relief that will be sure—yes, absolutely sure—to follow the use of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP.

Druggists everywhere now keep MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP for children teething. No medicine in the United States sells like it. It is a standard medicine, and its fame world-wide. Physicians order and use it wherever its magical effects have been witnessed.

During the thirty years of unprecedented and increasing popularity of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP, innumerable "CORDIALS" and other nostrums, prepared by pretended M. D.'s, have sprung up, and lived but a mushroom existence, while the SOOTHING SYRUP has been constantly increasing in popularity, and become a household word, and thousands of mothers thank Mrs. Winslow for the health of their children by the use of her invaluable article.

When the present race of "Cordials" have followed in the footsteps of their "illustrious predecessors," MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP will continue to be a popular favorite and a blessing to every mother.

None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New-York, is on the outside wrapper.

Sold by Druggists throughout the world.

Two of the series demand especial notice, from their inestimable value, and the universal prevalence of the diseases for which they are a certain cure. We refer to their

THE GRAEFENBERG INSTITUTE BUILDINGS are in the finest and most central portion of New-York City (No. 2 Bond-street, near Broadway.) They are four stories high, open, airy, elegantly furnished and arranged, and are admirably adapted for the comfort of those who wish to place themselves under the immediate care of the resident physician, who resides in the buildings, and who has been long and favorably known to the community for his skill and experience. The diseases treated at the Institute comprise chronic uterine and other difficulties of women referred to above, confinements, consumption, &c., and the Institute enjoys, as it deserves, the entire confidence of those who require its advantages. It is equally at the service of City patients who may desire more conveniences than they can command at their own houses, and those in the country who require to be under the immediate care of a skillful physician.

The whole Institution is under the care of Dr. J. F. Bridge, in whom the Board of Directors place entire confidence, whose reputation throughout the country is of the most favorable character.

Many of the leading public men in the country have spoken in the highest terms of the Graefenberg Institution and its theory and practice. Others who are unacquainted with the medicines, but who are aware of the integrity and truthfulness of the Resident Physician, have permitted him to refer to them for the truth of what he may say. Among these last we have noticed the names of HORACE GREELEY, of the Tribune; Prof. M. P. JEWETT, of the Vassar Female College, Poughkeepsie; Rev. E. H. CHAPIN, D.D., of New-York; Prof. A. P. PEABODY, of Harvard University, &c.

HOMES FOR THE INDUSTRIOUS IN THE GARDEN STATE OF THE WEST.

THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL RAILROAD COMPANY
HAVE FOR SALE
1,200,000 ACRES
OF
RICH FARMING LANDS,
IN
TRACTS OF FORTY ACRES AND UPWARDS,
ON LONG CREDITS AND AT LOW PRICES.

MECHANICS, FARMERS AND WORKING MEN.

The attention of the enterprising and industrious portion of the community is directed to the following statements and liberal inducements offered them by the

ILLINOIS CENTRAL RAILROAD COMPANY,

Which, as they will perceive, will enable them, by proper energy, perseverance and industry, to provide comfortable and permanent homes for themselves and families, with, comparatively speaking, very little capital:

LANDS OF ILLINOIS.

No State in the Valley of the Mississippi offers so great an inducement to the settler as the State of Illinois. There is no portion of the world where all the conditions of climate and soil so admirably combine to produce those two great staples, corn and wheat, as the prairies of Illinois.

RICH ROLLING PRAIRIE LANDS.

The deep rich loam of the prairies is cultivated with such wonderful facility that the farmers of the Eastern and Middle States are moving to Illinois in great numbers. The area of Illinois is about equal to that of England, and the soil is so rich that it will support twenty millions of people.

EASTERN AND SOUTHERN MARKETS.

These lands are contiguous to a railroad 700 miles in length, which connects with other roads and navigable lakes and rivers, thus affording an unbroken communication with the Eastern and Southern markets.

APPLICATION OF CAPITAL.

Thus far capital and labor have been applied to developing the soil; the great resources of the State in COAL and iron are almost untouched; the invariable rule that the mechanic arts flourish best where food and fuel are cheapest, will follow at an early day in Illinois, and in the course of the next ten years, the natural laws and necessities of the case warrant the belief that at least FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND PEOPLE will be engaged in the State of Illinois in the various manufacturing employments.

RAILROAD SYSTEM OF ILLINOIS.

Over $100,000,000 of private capital have been expended on the railroad system of Illinois. Inasmuch as part of the income from several of these works, with a valuable public fund in lands, go to diminish the State expenses, the taxes are light, and must, consequently, every day decrease.

THE STATE DEBT.

The State Debt is only $10,106,398 14, and, within the last three years, has been reduced $2,959,746 80, and we may reasonably expect that in ten years it will become extinct.

PRESENT POPULATION.

The State is rapidly filling up with population; 868,025 persons having been added since 1850, making the present population 1,719,496—a ratio of 102 per cent in ten years.

AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS.

The agricultural products of Illinois are greater than those of any other State. The products sent out during the past year exceeded 1,500,000 tons. The wheat crop of 1860 approaches 35,000,000 bushels, while the corn crop yields not less than 140,000,000 bushels.

FERTILITY OF SOIL.

Nowhere can the industrious farmer secure such immediate results for his labor as upon these prairie soils, they being composed of a deep, rich loam, the fertility of which is unsurpassed by any on the globe.

TO ACTUAL CULTIVATORS.

Since 1854 the Company have sold 1,300,000 acres. They sell only to actual cultivators, and every contract contains an agreement to cultivate. The road has been constructed through these lands at an expense of $30,000,000. In 1850 the population of forty-nine counties through which it passes was only 335,598, since which, 479,293 have been added, making the whole population 814,891—a gain of 143 per cent.

EVIDENCES OF PROSPERITY.

As an evidence of the thrift of the people, it may be stated that 600,000 tons of freight, including 8,600,000 bushels of grain, and 250,000 barrels of flour, were forwarded over the line last year.

EDUCATION.

Mechanics and Working Men will find the Free School system encouraged by the State, and endowed with a large revenue for the support of schools. Their children can live in sight of the Church and School-house, and grow up with the prosperity of the leading State in the great Western Empire.

PRICES AND TERMS OF PAYMENT.

The price of these lands vary from $6 to $25 per acre, according to location, quality, &c. First-class farming lands sell for about $10 or $12 per acre; and the relative expense of subduing prairie land as compared with wood land is in the ratio of 1 to 10 in favor of the former. The terms of sale for the bulk of these lands will be at six per cent. per annum, and six interest notes at six per cent., payable respectively in one, two, three, four, five and six years from date of sale; and four notes for principal, payable in four, five, six and seven years from date of sale; the contract stipulating that one-tenth of the tract purchased shall be fenced and cultivated each and every year, for five years from the date of sale, so that at the end of five years one-half shall be fenced and under cultivation.

TWENTY PER CENT. WILL BE DEDUCTED from the valuation for cash, except the same should be at six dollars per acre, when the cash price will be five dollars.

Pamphlets, descriptive of the lands, soil, climate, productions, prices and terms of payment, can be had on application to COLDS! COUGHS!!

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES
Cure Cough, Cold, Hoarseness, Influenza, any Irritation or Soreness of the Throat, relieve the Hacking Cough in Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma and Catarrh, clear and give strength to the voice of PUBLIC SPEAKERS AND SINGERS.

Few are aware of the importance of checking a Cough or "SLIGHT COLD" in its first stage; that which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if neglected, soon attacks the lungs. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are a most valuable article, especially so at this season of the year, when Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Influenza, Hoarseness and Sore Throat are so prevalent. The Troches give sure and almost immediate relief. Sold by all Druggists in the United States, at 25 cents a box.

TO THE PUBLIC.

F. A. BRADY, No. 24 Ann-st., will publish, on TUESDAY, April 16, a pamphlet entitled "THE CRISIS AND ITS REMEDIES," a Treatise on the present Political Panic. It is impartial, and must satisfy all reasonable men.

NOTICE.—THE SUBSCRIBERS TO THE NEW-York Produce Exchange are requested to meet at the room of the Company, on MONDAY, the 15th of April, at 1 o'clock, for the purpose of appointing a Committee to draft such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the management of the room.

MEDICAL.

TRIESEMAR

Protected by Patent-office Seal of Great Britain, Ecole de Pharmacie, Pharmacien de Paris and Imperial College of Medicine, Vienna.

Summary of the virtues of each preparation, TRIESEMAR Nos. 1, 2, and 3:

TRIESEMAR NO. 1
effectually removes general and local debility, premature decay, spermatorrhœa, and all the distressing consequences of excess; all physical impediments vanish like magic before its influence, thus rendering it invaluable to those about being married; even in the decline of life its invigorating powers are astonishing.

TRIESEMAR NO. 2
has superior properties in those cases where Copavia or Cubebs is usually administered.

entirely eradicates all impurities from the system; is most excellent in secondary symptoms, thus obviating the necessity of mercury, or any other deleterious ingredients.

Triesemar Nos. 1, 2 and 3, being in the form of an agreeable lozenge, is portable, and may be taken with the utmost facility while traveling by sea or land. Done up in tin cases, and divided into separate doses, as administered by Velpeau, Lallemand, Row, Ricord, &c. Single cases of each number, $3; four cases in one, $9; or in $27 cases, thereby saving $9.

To be had, wholesale and retail, from Dr. H. A. BARROW, No. 194 Bleecker-st., (four doors from Macdougal-st.,) New-York, where he may be confidentially consulted, as usual, from 11 till 2, and from 4 till 8 o'clock. On Sundays, from 11 till 2 o'clock.

Sold by F. C. Wells & Co., No. 115 Franklin-st., New-York, and T. Worthington, No. 206 Fulton-st., Brooklyn.

DR. JEFFRIES' ANTIDOTE, a specific mixture for the cure of certain disorders. It makes a speedy cure without the least restriction of diet, drink, exposure or change in application to business. Repeated experiments and long experience have proved that it will radically cure any case which can be produced. This desirable result is obtained in from two to ten days; and as it neither creates nausea nor offends the palate, and renders unnecessary all deviation in diet or interruption to usual pursuits, and sleep or healthy digestion, the disease is thus removed as speedily as is consistent with the production of a thorough and permanent cure.

HUNDREDS OF THE UNFORTUNATE are disappointed of a cure by not calling on Dr. HUNTER at first. The Hunterian Dispensary, No. 3 Division-st., New-York City, established in 1834, for the Preservation of Human Life. PRIVATE CONSULTATION.—Dr. Hunter has for thirty years confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated not less than fifty thousand cases, without an instance of failure. His great remedy, HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures certain diseases when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting or sickening effects of all other remedies; cures, in new cases, in less than six hours. It roots out the poisonous taint the blood is sure to absorb, unless this remedy is used. It is $1 a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the old office, No. 3 Division-st. Book for nothing, that treats of the evil effects of early abuse and indulgence; is embellished with elaborate colored engravings, portraying every feature and phase of disease; exposes the fallacy of the ordinary modes adopted for the cure of local as well as hereditary maladies, and gives the only safe and infallible remedy for expunging every trace of the virus from the system.

Observe the statements. Physicians say Consumption is hereditary. Do not misconstrue their meaning; it has been transmitted to your children; you are to blame for excessive indulgences; it will be made evident to you at that critical age when the system undergoes a change, from 16 to 25, requiring healthy constitutions, and to yourselves from 30 to 50, when another change is manifest. Being aware of the cause of your sufferings—none will confess. The family physician yourselves may advise. Punish, aye, even tie the hands; the desire and the disease still exist. Visit our MATRIMONIAL.—I THINK I NEED A WIFE; one educated well, and rich to, but not very, for I am a lawyer and somewhat of a politician, and she must maintain the station. For myself, I spurn the "social lie" which thinks and says the Press is no fit medium of introduction. "If their hearts be right it matters little how they met." Address CHARLES V. MILITARY AND NAVAL MOVEMENTS.

THE COATZACOALCOS TROOPS.

At 7 o'clock yesterday morning the steamer Coatzacoalcos hauled alongside the wharf, at the foot of Warren-street, and the troops on board commenced to disembark. The luggage was first removed and put on board the tow-boats R. L. Mabey and Pope Catlins. By noon all the men had left the Coatzacoalcos, the Washington detachments being the last to leave. Annexed is a tabular distribution of the companies as they departed:

FOR WASHINGTON.	Men.
Company D, Second Cavalry	59
Company H, Second Cavalry	41
Total	100
FOR CARLISLE.
Company B, Second Cavalry	64
Company J, Second Cavalry	59
Company G, Second Cavalry	64
Company E, Second Cavalry	45
Total	232
FOR FORT HAMILTON.
Company J, First Infantry	33
Grand total	417

The arrival of the Infantry at Fort Hamilton was the signal for a repetition of the bustle and excitement occasioned by the garrisoning of that fortress some time since. The rooms occupied by the artillery companies from Texas were prepared by the Sergeant in charge for their new residents, who are now comfortably located in them. A guard was mounted in the afternoon, and sentinels told off for post duty, as though the poor fellows had just returned from furlough, instead of harassing service. The $50,000 appropriated by the Government for the extension of the Fort Hamilton batteries are beginning to be used in the employment of workmen, &c.

GOVERNOR'S ISLAND.

The extensive preparations which have been making on the Island, for some days, to receive troops, were not made for nothing, as we anticipated. No sooner had the arrival of the Coatzacoalcos been announced on Thursday, than Fort Columbus was in a ferment. Off-duty men rushed to the breach to cheer their returned comrades; police parties threw by their work, and followed suit,—even the day's guard forgot the dignified disregard of events going on off their post, which sentinels generally observe, and went as far from the guard-room towards the wharf as they dared. The band, having been tired playing "The Girl I Left Behind Me," for departing troops, were glad to have a chance of altering it to a less melancholy strain, ("See the Conquering Hero Comes" is the tune usually played on the accession of reinforcements, but it didn't exactly suit the case.) and "Paddy Carey" was performed with spirit. The barracks, mess rooms and baggage-rooms received a hasty brush up, and missing belt-pegs and musket-racks were supplied. Yesterday morning, the continual arrival and departure of officers and messengers from the City, betokened active movements, the nature of which Providence and Gen. Scott only know.

Some of the launches, which were brought down from the Navy-yard to go in the Baltic and Illinois, and two third cutters, were yesterday returned, and hauled up on the wharf.

A schooner, loading with gun-carriages directed to Capt. Israel Vodges, Fort Pickens, is lying still at the wharf.

THE RECRUITING OFFICES.

The business at the recruiting offices, since noticed on Wednesday, has not materially changed. Cedar and Chatham streets average each about 30 men per week, who are sent over to Fort Columbus, when sworn in, and "refreshed." The cavalry rendezvous in Hudson-street is not doing much. When a few dozen recruits are obtained at the latter they are dispatched to the "horse soldiers dépôt," Carlise, Penn., where riding-masters and green steeds await them. After going through the initiatory service of a mounted trooper, they are then drafted for California, Oregon, and other distant regions, where the Infantry need assistance. There are generally from 80 to 200 men at Carlisle, and a large stable filled with horses, many of which, notorious for their wickedness, are kept permanently, to inure the new military man into the difficult part of his profession.

In Boston, Mass., six men were sent to the principal dépôt, Governor's Island, on Monday, and six on Wednesday. The rendezvous was almost besieged by aspirants for military glory. Any number of men could be enlisted, but the same rule obtains there as in this City; all but first-class men are rejected. We understand that the Naval recruiting rendezvous in Boston and Charlestown are in full operation.

THE NAVY-YARD.

The business at the Navy-yard continues with unabated vigor. In all the departments bustle and activity are visible. The machine shops have the engines and machinery of the Wabash and Roanoke in hands; the former is approaching completion rapidly, and will probably be finished on Tuesday; the latter is not being hurried. The Marine barracks still have about 86 troops, none having been detached for some time. They are drilled every day, sometimes along with the guard of the receiving ship. Instead of one commanding officer, one executive captain and three lieutenants, the commissioned officers of the post consist of Capt. Brevoort and Major Doughty—Serg. McDonald has been acting officer of the day, in his turn, for weeks, but the honor is all trouble, and no profit. In the Paymaster's department Mr. Belknap, the new incumbent, has just "got the hang of things," Mr. Nixon keeping him posted during his initiative term. The late acting clerk in the Purser's office, Mr. Murray, who has gone to Mare Island with his father, is replaced by Mr. Belknap's son, an intelligent, gentlemanly fellow. The visitors who daily throng the premises minutely examine all the attractions of the yard, from that "old curiosity shop," the Lyceum, to the magnificent launching ways, which have just been bridged over and completed. The new gun ground, which will be one of the fanciest "ornamental squares" at the station when completed, is quite ready for the cannon, but they have not yet been brought down. The skids are all laid.

The North Carolina yesterday fired a few experimental guns, which made the visitors believe that war was undoubtedly commencing at New-York.

THE ARMORY.

Tightly barred, and hid from the gaze of outsiders, is the Armory. Since the memorable night on which the capture of the Navy-yard was decided upon by some desperadoes whom the Commandant is reported to have seen in a dream, the doors of this building have been shut up, and no one but the "keeper of the keys" can tell how the arms look now. The muskets, cutlasses, swords, carbines, pistols, boarding-pikes, and the rails filled with cartouche-boxes, are overhauled by the one privileged visitor every morning, and no rusty nipples or rotten scabbards are in the premises. There may probably be 8,000 muskets and other small weapons in the department. One of these fine afternoons 100 muskets for the Wabash, about 80 for the Savannah, and some 30 for the Perry, will be taken out.

ARMAMENTS OF THE SHIPS ORDERED FOR SEA.

The Ordnance Department, which, like the unapproachable Armory, is under the control of Capt. Gansevoort, is finishing up the armaments for the three men-of-war now in the stream, preparing for active sea service. An inexperienced person can form no idea of the weight of metal in these batteries. As they are likely to figure in the Home Fleet, we append some account of each.

The Wabash.—This splendid steam-frigate will have on board two 10 inch pivot guns, weighing over 10,000 pounds each; 28 9 inch guns of 9,000 pounds; 14 [illegible] 83 cwt.; 2 12-pound heavy howitzers, (for the launches,) and two 12-pound light howitzers, (for the cutters.) This battery will, of itself, weigh over 390 tons, and will have attached to it little less than 3,800 rounds of shot, shell, &c. It will soon be ready for work. The Wabash is to get her masts in to-day, or Monday, and will have steam up this afternoon.

The Savannah.—The armament of the Savannah recently consisted of quite a large number of comparatively light guns. It will be changed. The impression seems to be now, that she will have 22 9-inch guns, which will make her battery nearly equal in power, as regards the weight of metal, to the spar deck of the Wabash, excepting the pivots. The authorities seem to think, like Napoleon, that Providence and victory are on the side of the big artillery. Hence the Savannah's improved armament. She is preparing fast, and will be reported ready about the 10th of May;—not before.

The Perry.—The Perry will have six 32-pounders, weighing 27 cwt. each; and one light 12-pound howitzer, quite a formidable armament for a little brig. Her shot rails will, perhaps, contain some 2,000 shot, shell, &c. The rigging of this vessel is almost up. She can be ready for sea in a few days.

THE ARMSTRONG COURT MARTIAL.

Commodore Breese, the commandant of the Brooklyn Navy-yard, who has been to Washington on the [illegible] been submitted for the approval of the President. In the absence of any authoritative statement of its result, we may say that there is little likelihood of the Commodore's being cashiered. Assisted by his counsel, Mr. Philips, he got up a very able defence, which is reported to have had great effect on the Court.

THE CHIEF ENGINEER OF THE NEW-YORK STATION DETACHED.

The term of service of Chief Engineer King, at the Brooklyn Navy-yard, having expired, he has, in accordance with the usual custom, been relieved from that post. For the last three years he has devoted his whole time and energies to improving the works of the Yard and the machinery of the various steamers fitted out under his charge; also in economizing the expenditures in various ways; and he has just perfected the plans of several sets of steam boilers and engines for the Yard, which plans will be carried out by his successor, Mr. Garvin. Mr. King's detachment is regretted by every one, and will paralyze business here, for the present at all events.

CAPT. MERCER AND THE POWHATAN.

The following mischievous paragraph is from the Philadelphia Ledger, and was furnished by its New-York correspondent:

"Capt. Mercer, of the man-of-war Powhatan, as you are already aware, when his vessel was some miles out at sea under sealed orders, gave up his command and returned to this City in a steam-tug. A great many rumors have been in circulation concerning this singular movement, but the truth of the matter I am assured is this: Capt. Mercer received sealed orders to sail, not to be opened until 35 miles out of port. Suspecting that he might be sent out on a mission which he could not conscientiously fulfill, he directed the tug-boat that towed him to sea to stay by him until he signified his wish for her to go. He kept her, therefore, until the required 35 miles were made, when he opened his orders, examined them, took his luggage, left the vessel and came back to the City, and sent his resignation immediately to Washington.

What the orders were is the mystery, but they were such as Capt. Mercer could not fulfill. Capt. Mercer is a Marylander. Capt. McKinstry, who takes his place, is a native of Michigan. The President, it is said, refuses to receive his resignation."

We are authorized to repeat, what we stated on Wednesday last, touching the above matter, that there is not one word of truth in this. Capt. Mercer was fully apprised of the proposed change in the command of the Powhatan three or four days before she sailed; the change was entirely satisfactory to him, and there is no misunderstanding whatever between him and the Navy Department. Capt. Mercer worked night and day along with Capt. Foote to fit the ship, with a full knowledge that Lieut. Porter, or some equally efficient officer would go in command. He went with the ship to see her safely to sea on her errand, and no one more sincerely and loyally stands by the Government, or is more ready to obey its commands. This is fully understood by the Department.

FROM THE PACIFIC COAST.

THE REVOLUTION IN NEW-GRANADA.

Defeat of the Government Forces at Buenaventura.

MESSAGE OF PRESIDENT OSPINA

The steamship North Star, Jones Commander, from Aspinwall April 4, with specie, passengers and mails to D. B. Allen, arrived at this port yesterday afternoon.

The North Star left New-York March 21, at 12 M.; arrived at Aspinwall on March 29, at 5 P. M.—sailed from Aspinwall on April 4, at 2 P. M., and arrived at New-York April 12, 3 P. M. She experienced a very heavy gale from W. N. W., with very heavy sea, on the night of March 21. It continued until the 23d inst.

The dates from California are, as usual, anticipated; but our correspondent at Panama furnishes us highly interesting intelligence from New-Granada.

NEW GRANADA.

Conflict between the Government and Revolutionary Forces at Buenaventura—Thirty-five Soldiers burned to Death—Progress of the Revolution in Antioquia—Armistice between Mosquera and Lee—Message of President Ospina.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Panama, Thursday, April 4, 1861.

Although there is no news from South or Central America to communicate by this mail, the intelligence from the interior of the Republic is interesting and important.

On the 26th, the Government forces, consisting of about 100 men, stationed at Buenaventura, were attacked by the revolutionary troops, under Col. Pedrosa, about 400 strong, and after a fight which lasted from 5 A. M. to 3 P. M., the former were entirely defeated. About twenty-five of the Government troops escaped on board the two little vessels of war in the bay, and the rest, headed by Sr. Hoyos, retreated to the barracks, from which point they defended themselves for some time. The building was strongly protected by heavy wooden logs piled up as far as the first floor, and the upper part was covered with plates of boiler iron. A Congreve rocket, however, set the building on fire, the few who attempted to escape were shot down, but the majority, said to be from 30 to 35 men, including Dr. Hoyos, perished in the flames, and when the Saranac touched at the port two days afterwards, Capt. Ritchie and his officers saw the charred and roasted bodies still lying in three heaps within the ruins. Whilst the attack on the barracks was going on, the two government vessels, Clio and Salamander kept up a brisk fire on the town, the only effect of which was to destroy much property and kill a few women and children. Having fired about two hundred rounds and expended all their ammunition, they set sail, and when seen by the Saranac on the morning of the 29th, were standing in the direction of Tumaco, where, doubtless, they have gone to join the forces under the command of Arboleda. The Government lost about 40 killed, and 32 wounded; the rest either escaped or were taken prisoners. On the Liberal side there were about 20 killed and 30 wounded. The town remains in the hands of Col. Pedrosa, who was doing his best to restore order. Foreign property was generally respected, and I did not hear of any outrages having been committed on foreigners.

Dr. Hoyos, who lost his life in this engagement, was a gentleman well known in the Republic, and has held the Secretaryship of the Treasury and other important offices under various administrations; for some time past he has been Collector of Customs at Buenaventura; in private life he was very much esteemed by all who knew him. Independent of the possession of the port and the defeat of the Government forces, this victory will enable the Liberals to send a supply of salt into the interior, where it was very much wanted, Buenaventura being the principal place at which it is imported from Peru. For many months it has been impossible to send any up the river.

We are also in receipt of later news from Cartagena and Bogota.

In the State of Antioquia the revolutionary movements of the people of Rio Negro and Medellin were supported by similar demonstrations in other towns, and the Liberals were marching to attack the Government forces at Higueron and Santa Rosa.

In the State of Boyaca the Revolutionists, under Santos Gutierrez, have been victorious, and the leaders, Canal and Guerrero, were taken prisoners. Gutierrez was marching on the Capital with 2,000 men.

On the 1st of March, the Sixth Division of Ospina's Army, under the command of Gutierrez Lee, crossed the Magdalena River to attack Mosquera in the rear, whilst the principal part of the army attacked his front. Mosquera anticipated the movement, and after various skirmishes, an armistice was agreed to by which hostilities were suspended for six days, and if Ospina agreed to it, was to be continued until the 1st of April, for the purpose of concluding the war, if possible, on the following basis: 1. Congress to meet and elect a "Designado," or President, pro tem., to the mutual satisfaction of both parties. 2. Elections for Senators and Representatives to be held in all the States, in conformity with the Election law of 1856. 3. In case these terms are not accepted by President Ospina, hostilities may recommence forty-eight hours after the expiration of the six days' truce. 4. During the armistice, the forces of Mosquera to remain encamped at Guaduas, and those of Gutierrez Lee between the towns of Chaguani, Viani, San Juan or Bituima, at the discretion of the latter.

Gen. Briceno and Cols. Pineres and Gallaro had reached Carthagena as prisoners of war.

President Ospina's message has at length been published here. It is a very long document, and I am only able to send you a slip furnished me in advance by the kindness of the editors of the Star and Herald.

"The President commences his message with an expression of regret at not being able to congratulate the country on its peaceable condition. He next states that with all foreign Powers the most friendly relations continue, and refers to the settlement of the British and American claims, paying a high compliment to the Commissioners who he has appointed to Washington. The President next refers to the necessity of defining the boundary questions still pending with Equador, Brazil, Venezuela and Costa Rica.

In the next section of the message, Senor Ospina reviews the political state of this country since 1854; refers to the events previous to his election, and then gives a summary of the events that led to the present revolution, tracing its progress step by step.

Sr. Ospina next enters on the discussion of the moral phenomena that have led to this unfortunate state of affairs. He specifies five causes: 1st, materialism; 2d, the political condition of individuals; 3d, the impunity with which public writers can spread their ideas; 4th, want of firmness on the part of the people; and 5th, family relationship.

Under these five heads he gives his views of things in general. Among other things complains that the Constitution gives the States the power to prevent 'the trade in arms and munition' by which means they were enabled to prevent the 'friends of order from arming themselves,' whilst the Constitutional Governors OBLIGED TO RESPECT THE LAWS could not prevent the conspirators from arming themselves.

The President next lays down under seven heads the causes (in his opinion) of the existing evils, and under thirteen captions proposes the remedy, which are entirely in favor of centralization and intended to limit the power of the States."

The national expenditure for the incoming year is calculated at $2,105,700, and the revenue at $1,824,000. How the difference is to be made up, is not explained.

The President refers to the propositions made by the Panama Railroad Company for the extension of their privileges, which, he says, he did not think it advisable to accept finally. He alludes to various offers made in Europe for the canalization of the Isthmus of Darien, which are still under the consideration of the Government.

A party of five Frenchmen, including a priest, left town a few days ago for the Darien, to explore the country for a canal route. They kept their movements and plans very quiet. They are said to have been sent out by a French company. What part the priest plays in the expedition, I have not learnt; but if he attempts to cross the Darien with his long robes, and poke through the forest with his shovel hat, he will have a very fine time of it.

In Panama we have had quite a little excitement growing out of the fact that in the Department of Fabrega the principal citizens held a meeting in Santiago and petitioned the Governor to call an extra session of the Legislature for the purpose of taking steps to declare the Isthmus independent. In their "representation," of which I send you a copy, they say they are tired of spending blood and money in a cause from which they derived no benefit, and in which they took no interest. On the receipt of this document here a meeting of citizens was called, and they got up a series of counter-resolutions affirming their unalterable attachment to New-Granada, and expressive of their determination to resist any attempt at independence.

The national authorities here are, I understand, about to take legal proceedings against the signers of the Santiago document. There is no doubt that in the interior a strong feeling exists in favor of the independence of the Isthmus, and similar petitions will probably be sent in from the other departments. In Panama the feeling is generally against the measure, though some few of our best men favor it.

The Saranac, Capt. Ritchie, arrived on Sunday (31st) from Valparaiso and intermediate ports. The St. Marys, Capt. Porter, sailed on Monday (1st) for San Francisco. The flag-ship Lancaster, is still in port; also, the British ship Mutine, Capt. Graham.

THE NEW-YORK LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

Albany, Friday, April 12.

The Senate is hard at work and doing a rushing business.

Amendments to the Coles or Harlem Bridge bill made in the Assembly, were concurred in.

The bill now goes to the Governor.

A large number of bills were reported from Committees; among them the telegraph operators bill, the Brooklyn Board of Education bill, a majority and minority report for and against the swill milk bill, a majority and minority report for and against the Metropolitan Health District bill.

A motion to make the bill the special order for 3½ o'clock, requiring unanimous consent, was objected to.

BILLS PASSED.

To widen Main-street.

Relative to the Chamberlaincy of New-York City.

To submit the question to revise the Constitution to the people of the State, by 19 to 8.

To amend the Bushwick-avenue act.

To confirm and legalize the Slatery Eightieth street by contract.

The New-York City annual tax levy.

Messrs. Truman, Lapham, Bell, Blood and Grant were appointed a Committee to consider the Claim bills, and move them forward.

The President presented a communication from Hon. David Dudley Field, being a sharp and severe reply to the communication from the other Peace Commissioners, arraigning his action. Laid on the table.

P. P. Murphy asked unanimous consent to take up the resolution reported by the Committee to examine the charges of malfeasance in office, requesting the Governor to remove John S. Anable, one of the Harbor-Masters.

Mr. Spinola objected, and the motion was not entertained.

The Congressional Apportionment bill was considered, and after several amendments had been proposed and rejected, the bill was passed by a vote of 17 to 9.

The negative votes were Messrs. Abell, Blood, Colvin, Gardner, Hammond, Hillhouse, Montgomery, Spinola and Truman.

The concurrent resolution to adjourn sine die at 12 M., to-morrow, was adopted.

The Supply bill being received from the Assembly, with a message stating the items non-concurred in by that body, Mr. Prosser moved to insist on the Senate's amendments. Carried—22 to 8.

Mr. Goss moved to reconsider the vote on the final adjournment.

Messrs. Spinola, Truman and Hammond, in order to prevent a reconsideration, made motions and raised points of order until 6 o'clock, when, under the rule of fixing the hours of the session, the President declared the Senate adjourned till 10 A. M., to-morrow.

ASSEMBLY.

Albany, Friday, April 12.

The Assembly is again hard at work to-day with an evident intention to hurry up business.

Mr. McDermott, on a question of privilege, desired his vote recorded in the negative on the passage of the Coles or Harlem Bridge bill.

The feature of the morning was a spicy interlude, growing out of a quarrel in the Select Committee on the bill to amend the act of 1860 to open Madison-avenue.

Mr. Varian, on a question of privilege, drew the attention of the House to the fact that Mr. Camp, another member of the Committee, had seized on the bill, locked it up in a drawer, and refused to deliver it up. A majority of the Committee had chosen him (Varian) Chairman, and instructed him to report the bill. He moved that Mr. Camp be directed to give up the bill.

Mr. Camp replied, denouncing the bill, and declaring that he would never consent that such a bill should be passed in the small hours of the session, when legislation needed watching with extra vigilance.

Mr. Varian reported that the bill had been before the Legislature from an early day of the session, and the gentleman from Westchester (Camp) could have attended to it and opposed it before, had he not been running after the President elect from Springfield to Washington half the session.

The debate was carried out with considerable spice by other members, Messrs. Varian and Camp preserving good humor, and laughing at the propositions from Mr. Arcularius that the desks be cleared away, and the gentlemen be allowed to settle the difference between themselves.

The Speaker declared the motion not now in order, and the resolution instructing Mr. Camp to give up the bill adopted.

A large number of reports were put in by Committees.

The bill for the transfer of unclaimed dividends and funds from Banks and Courts of law to the State Treasury, was reported for the consideration of the House. It is not likely to be reached again.

The Select Committee to report the bill to regulate milk freight on the Harlem Road having failed to agree, Mr. Dutcher moved that the bill be taken from their hands and sent to the first Committee of the Whole. Carried.

This insures action on the bill to-day.

The bill relative to contracts by the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of New-York was reported complete and ordered to a third reading.

The bill in relation to ferries between New-York and Brooklyn was reported by the Select Committee for the consideration of the House.

Mr. Darcy moved to disagree with the report and order the bill to a third reading. Carried by a large majority.

Mr. Benedict, from the Select Committee, reported back the bill to appropriate half a million dollars to arm the Militia of the State in substantially the same form as it was before, and it was passed—78 to 25. The bill now provides that the Governor, Lieut.-Governor Secretary of State and Comptroller may, if they deem proper, expend money not making the expenditure obligatory. This is the principle for which Messrs. Robinson and Kernan contended.

Mr Watson called up the Senate concurrent resolutions on the Reciprocity Treaty, and they were adopted.

The bill to prevent the mutilation of the records of New-York City was passed.

[illegible] and spoke against the bill.

Mr. Fullerton spoke in favor of the bill.

The motion to strike out the enacting clause was lost, and the bill passed by 88 to 22.

The Supply bill came down from the Senate, with a message that that body had concurred in the report of the Conference Committee on the bill.

After a spirited debate, the House refused to concur in the following items: Payment of extra compensation to the clerks of the two Houses and pages.

An increased amount to the proprietors of the Delevan House, for expenses for the reception of President Lincoln.

For the appropriation of $5 000 to the Lima College. All the other amendments were concurred in.

The bill was returned to the Senate with an appropriate message.

The bill to amend the act to open Madison-avenue was again brought before the House.

Mr. Varian made a majority report in favor of the bill.

Mr. Camp presented a minority report against it.

After debate the House rejected it. The majority report was thus killed.

The House concurred in the Senate amendment to the New-York County tax levy, which now goes to the Governor. Recess till 7 o'clock.

EVENING SESSION.

The bill to amend the Liquor law, requiring the Commissioners of Excise to give bonds, and making more stringent provisions as to the license to prohibit the liquor traffic on Sunday, and compelling the Police to inform against all unlicensed houses, came up for a third reading. Mr. Webster moved to recommit the bill. Lost.

The bill was then read and lost—31 to 46.

The Annual Supply bill came from the Senate with the message that they insist on their amendments.

The House, after a debate, concurred in the full allowance; to the proprietors of the Delevan House, for the expenses of the entertainment to President Lincoln—66 to 38; also, in the item of extra compensation to pages—65 to 35—and insisted on its non-concurrence in the remaining amendments of the Senate, being $5,000 appropriation to Lima College, and extra compensation to clerks. The bill again goes to the Senate.

Mr. Birdsall called from the table the bill to amend the insolvent law, requiring a petition of one-sixth of the creditors instead of two-thirds to clear insolvents.

Messrs. Kernan and Ellingwood opposed the bill, and Messrs. Morgan, Bingham, Arcularius and Birdsall supported it, and it was lost—54 to 35.

Pending the vote, Mr. Townsend moved a call of the House, which was not ordered.

Mr. Townsend then moved to take from the table the bill to amend the law relative to executions and other processes against insolvents. Lost.

The bill relative to contracts by the Mayor and Common Council of New-York requiring confirmation in fifteen days, came up for third reading.

Mr. Woodruff moved to strike out the enacting clause.

Messrs. Hutchings, Varian and Benedict supported the bill, and Mr. Prendergast opposed it.

Under operation of the previous question, the bill was passed—76 to 5. Adjourned.

The respondent, John D. Locke, now made a return to the writ. He alleges that since the 25th of March last his son has been absent from the State, and out of the jurisdiction of the Court; that he has not from that date exercised any power or control over his person or conduct.

Court of General Sessions.

CIVIL AND CRIMINAL RIGHTS CONFOUNDED.

In this Court, yesterday, before Recorder Hoffman, Mr. Garvin prosecuting for the people, Angelina Blake, indicted for larceny of $66 worth of property from Anne Lewis (both parties being colored.) The evidence showed that the detention of the stolen articles (clothing) was under the mistaken idea among ignorant people, that they have a lien upon any property of a debtor upon which they can lay their hands. The complainant had left her clothes in the prisoner's possession, and subsequently claiming them was met with a refusal accompanied with a counter claim for board. Prosecution was then set on foot. The Jury of course acquitted, and the prisoner was discharged.

AN AUCTIONEER "KNOCKS DOWN" A MAN.

Zeno D. Burnham, indicted for assault and battery, was then tried.

Charles H. Phelps testified that he went with Mr. Smith to Mr. Burnham's auction store; Mr. Smith said to the prisoner, "You have insulted my wife here; you told her that she had no money, and that such women as she ought not to come to an auction, and further added that she was no lady." The prisoner replied, "She is a d—d liar." To which the husband very naturally replied, "You are a scoundrel;" whereupon the prisoner struck him. Blows were then freely interchanged, when the prisoner called his dog, and shouted for some one to bring his pistol. The dog, like an obedient brute, came. As Smith and the witness were leaving the store, the latter not having spoken at all, the prisoner struck the witness in his face and kicked him, saying, "You shall go too," adding an expletive indicating that both the visitors were under condemnation, and were of canine descent. Nor did his violence stop here, but seizing a pole, broke it over the heads of his enemies. He was then clinched by Mr. Smith, who with a piece of the broken pole, struck the prisoner three or four blows over the head. Some human beings happening to be near them, took off the assailant. This was on the 8th of November.

Alexander M. C. Smith testified that he had invited the last witness to accompany him to the prisoner's store. He described the occurrence there exactly as the last witness had done. Witness was over sixty years of age.

Robert Clark testified to having seen a portion of the fracas on the sidewalk. His account corroborated that already given.

For the defence the prisoner's porter gave the same general account as the other witnesses, although he made the complainant to have [illegible] to strike the first blow.

Moses Chapman testified to having been present at the fray; he did not hear the prisoner make use of the language attributed to him by the other witnesses; he also testified that the complainant had said to him after the occurrence, that he had gone to the prisoner's store, expecting a row, and had taken Phelps along as a witness; witness also testified that the complainant, Smith, struck first: the prisoner did not strike Phelps until he had ordered him to leave; Phelps refusing to go was then put out.

Counsel then summed up, and the jury rendered a verdict of guilty, and the prisoner was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and be confined in the City Prison for fifteen days. The prisoner received his sentence with great chagrin, and seemed completely overwhelmed.

The Court then adjourned to this morning at 10 o'clock, to pass sentences and hear motions.

Distressing Accident.—Coroner Jackman held an inquest yesterday, at No. 40 Oliver-street, upon the body of David Price, a boy 9 years of age, who was fatally injured on Thursday afternoon while passing through South-street. It appeared that a carman backed his cart across the sidewalk, close to the stoop of a building, and just as the lad was going by, the horse became alarmed, started suddenly back, and caught the lad between the tail of the cart and the steps, crushing him in a shocking manner. He was taken home, where he died soon afterwards. A verdict of accidental death was rendered.
